

CHICAGO, July 24 -Two persons were killed and two others seriously hurt today in a collision between an automobile and a passenger train on the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville railroad near Juncie, Ind. The dead.

Richard Flagg, 18 years of age, Hillsdale, Mich.

Harry Eberhard, 16 years of age, Minn.

Washington Street

Interest paid on deposits. Foreign and domestic exchange.

LADY OF GOOD PRESENCE WHO THOROUGHLY UNDERSTANDS THE STATIONERY BUSINESS AND ENGRAVING OF STATIONERY SLATS. EXPERIENCE AND SALARY EXPERT POSITION. BOX 8.6, TRIB-

The Growing Cost of Government

Every great nation in the world is facing a deficit in revenue. Great Britain, Germany, France and Austria, as well as the United States, are exceeding their incomes, and are searching out new sources of revenue. In the main the enormous increase in the cost of government is ascribed to the increase in naval and military armament. That the constant growth of governmental expense is a grave problem and a menace to commercial and industrial stability is only too evident. The five great nations of Europe are spending about $3,000,000,000 a year to maintain their governments. The cost of governing the United States approximates $700,000,000 a year. And the tendency in all countries is to increase the cost of government.

Premier Asquith tries to comfort the British public by pointing out that Germany's deficit is larger than England's, but the consolation he offers is poor and unsatisfactory. The inconvenience of an empty pocket is not cured by saying some other fellow is in a worse state of bankruptcy. National budgets have grown to such appalling proportions as to enforce the apprehensive study of political economists. They threaten political stability.

What are we going to do about it? is a question of growing insistence. The civilized world keeps crying peace, but more men are bearing arms today than at any time in the history of the human race. Even in the Orient the mania for standing armies is spreading. Japan has become a great military power, and even China is arming. Even the British colonies are setting up military establishments. Canada and Australia are both building warships and organizing strong land forces.

Where is it all going to end? Peace conferences seem to result only in bigger navies and larger armies. At a period when amity among nations is the universal theme of diplomatists and economists, the world goes on arming and preparing for a titanic military struggle. If this arming be regarded as a security for peace, it is plain that the insurance against war is costing too much.

Wheat Growers Still Learning.

With the experience of a half century in wheat growing the California farmer has apparently much yet to learn. For forty years or more the Glenn ranch, which constitutes the major part of what is now Glenn county, was seeded to nothing but wheat. No relief was given to the soil of the 55,000 acres of the Sacramento valley floor through a rotation of crops until it became so impoverished by the exhaustion of those elements on which wheat relied for nourishment that wheat growing had to be abandoned as unprofitable. Like others who carried on wheat farming on a large scale, Dr. Glenn did not give the soil any return for what the wheat he harvested had extracted. When wheat farming ceased on the Glenn ranch the land was allowed to become fallow and was considered well nigh worthless.

In recent years experiments have been made with irrigation, which have been so successful that a big irrigation district has been developed which covers the whole of this once exhausted tract, water restoring to the impoverished soil the elements which forty years of constant wheat growing had taken out of it. It is represented that this year, under the stimulus of irrigation, wheat crops are being harvested on the old Glenn ranch as large as any ever produced on it and that from what was condemned before irrigation was attempted as worn-out soil.

That is one case where an invaluable lesson has been taught the California wheat grower in these latter days. Now comes another from the west side of the San Joaquin valley, which throws new light on the question of the proper time to harvest wheat in California. Through the long period of wheat growing in the past the grain has been allowed to mature and ripen before harvesting. Much risk is run of a northern sweeping over the ripened wheat field and shelling the heads of grain, causing a material loss in the yield per acre. This year, through the accident of the flooding of a piece of lowland on a wheat ranch on the west side, when the wheat on the rest of the land had matured and had to be harvested, the owner was compelled also to cut the green headed grain on the low ground, and presumed that it would prove a total loss. To his astonishment and the astonishment of all his neighbors, the grain thus cut in a green and an apparently immature state has turned out to be the best of all taken from the ranch and many farmers who have examined it pronounce it to be the best wheat ever raised in the State. Several wheat growers in the San Joaquin valley are as a result contemplating next year making a complete change in the time of harvesting.

The death of a young American named Roger Whinnifield, at Koenigsburg, Prussia, of cholera, indicates that this dread disease which has been raging in St. Petersburg in an epidemic form for some time past is spreading. It moreover indicates that the German authorities have been lax in quarantining the Russian border, for Whinnifield and his wife, who hail from Fond du Lac, Wis., had passed through Siberia and Russia and were on their way to Dresden, their next stopping place. They were allowed to cross the Prussian-Russian boundary without being halted by the Prussian health authorities. They reached Koenigsburg on July 21, and in a few hours later Whinnifield was dead. A bacteriological examination revealed the nature of the disease and now the German authorities are busy taking precautionary measures to prevent infection.

It appears that the free raw materials proposition enunciated in the Denver platform will not be adopted by Congress. The latest developments indicate that duties will be levied on lumber, coal, hides, etc.

Sociological Pedagogues

The sociological experts who attract attention by remarks that are more singular than sapient tend to bring into question, if not into disrepute, the educational institutions which harbor them and which furnish their habbing with some authoritative accent.

The trouble is that sociological pedagogues have just recently discovered the world, and they are fresh with the importance of the discovery. In the wonder of it, with true scholastic provincialism, fancy that the world is entirely a new province to be scientifically exploited, that their academic observations constitute the first accurate knowledge concerning this new field.—Minneapolis Journal.

PROHIBITION.

There is a device of the saloon men to escape paying taxes.—Charleston News and Courier.

A PERMANENT JOB.

The man who limits himself to hoping for the best has an everlasting.—Bazar.

"Isn't there a great deal of water in the cellar?" asked the prospective tenant.

"Yes," answered the agent, proudly.

"We really ought to call it a bathtub and charge extra rent for it."—Harpers.

Testimony of the Clearing House

With the exception of one city on the Pacific Coast, namely, Seattle, Oakland's percentage of gain in bank clearings during the week ending Thursday, as reported by Bradstreet's, stands at the head of the list in the comparisons made with the record of the corresponding week in 1908. Oakland's gain this week is 32.4 per cent. That of Seattle is given as 47.5 per cent. Since the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition opened in that city no such gain in the bank clearings has been previously recorded. It is, however, easily accounted for now, because the vacation season is at its height. Strangers are flocking into Seattle from all parts of the country at present to visit the exposition grounds. All bring money with them and spend it freely. Naturally the bank clearings are swollen much beyond the normal. Then, again, the gold is just beginning to flow into Seattle from the gold mining districts of Alaska and Yukon Territory, and these mining camps are all showing a vastly increased output of the precious metal this season as compared with previous years. Beyond question this fact has an indirect effect on the drawing of checks and the volume of the business of the Seattle Clearing House, which helps to account for the abnormal increase in the percentage of gain in the bank clearings of that city.

Take as an example to illustrate that these elements are the prime causes of Seattle's gain in the past week, Tacoma, which gets comparatively little of the exposition trade and none of the gold movement from the mines of Alaska and Yukon Territory, has, up to the present week, been showing a much larger percentage of gain over Seattle in bank clearings for a long time past, and has, moreover, often shown a higher percentage of gain in its bank clearings over those of any other Pacific Coast city, shows this week a gain of only 29.4 per cent. San Francisco's gain has been 14.2 per cent; Portland, Ore., 30.2 per cent; Spokane, 17.7 per cent; Salt Lake City, 5.8 per cent; Los Angeles, 28 per cent; Sacramento, 25.6 per cent. With the solitary exception of Seattle, therefore, Oakland's bank clearings exceed the highest of all other Pacific Coast cities, namely, Portland, Ore., by 2.4 per cent, while its excess of gain over Salt Lake City, the lowest in the list, is 26.6 per cent, and yet the latter city is enjoying an era of remarkable prosperity.

A proposition to build a new City Hall will soon be submitted to the voters of San Francisco. If the unparalleled folly of tearing down the old City Hall had not been committed by the Spreckels-Taylor administration there would be no need to bond the city for a large sum to provide a new municipal edifice. The old City Hall could have been rehabilitated for less than half a million. The interest on this sum could probably have been saved by cutting off the rentals the municipality now pays for accommodations scattered throughout the city. With reasonable diligence the old City Hall could have been placed in perfect condition for occupancy before this time. But the policy of useless destruction has left the civic departments houseless, and in that condition they must remain for several years to come. In the meantime the city is paying out large sums for the rent of scattered and inadequate accommodations. The taxpayers will now be saddled with a debt of several millions to erect a new hall, and this at a time when the tax rate is exceptionally high and business conditions growing out of the fire and the extraordinary outlay required for rebuilding and rehabilitation make extra tax burdens peculiarly burdensome. It is difficult to conceive of a greater piece of financial folly than was committed in the demolition of a substantial and adequate building that could have been placed in complete repair for less than one-tenth the cost of erecting a new City Hall.

Former Governor Buchtel of Colorado recently stated in New York that only the dregs of womankind vote in his State, that good women have to be clubbed to the polls to get them to vote. Now come his wife and daughter with the statement that they vote regularly at every election. In which class does the ex-Governor desire to have them placed? Surely he would not have it understood that he uses a club to persuade his wife and daughter to exercise the franchise, and it is inconceivable that he would defame them by classing them with the "dregs of womankind." But maybe Governor Buchtel, being away from home, talked through his hat, never thinking that the women of his family would rise up as contradicting witnesses against him. It is not always safe to indulge in hyperbole and broad generalizations injuriously reflecting on whole classes of society. Undoubtedly many good women vote, as a rule, at every election in Colorado; but at the same time it may be true that the vicious and ignorant vote more generally than do the virtuous and educated of their sex. Moreover, the number of votes cast by women at every general election is proof that a very large proportion of good women do exercise the franchise. To lump this whole body of female voters as the "dregs of womankind" is to affix a frightful social stigma on Colorado.

The State Harbor Commissioners admit that the San Francisco water front is lacking dock facilities for deep sea ships and cannot provide any more than it now possesses until the seawall is extended south of Market street. Such being the case, all the more necessary why the improvement of Oakland harbor and the constructing of wharf and dock facilities in it should be hastened. If Oakland does not hurry up to provide the shipping facilities which commerce needs and which this harbor can furnish, and which San Francisco's water front does not possess and cannot provide without the expenditure of more money and a greater delay than is necessary on this side of the bay, then commerce, which would under proper conditions enter the Golden Gate, will go to San Diego, San Pedro, Seattle or some other port where deep water ships can be accommodated.

PURELY PERSONAL

A woman at Pine Bluff, Ark., returning from a wedding, hung her peach-basket out over a lamppost, in which were some small ferns and which were hidden from view in a corner of the front porch. Later another woman sprinkled the hat in watering the ferns, thinking it was a collection of flowers.

It was a musical man who gave his four daughters the following names: Dora, Mi-la, So-la, Ti-do. The first escaped with the nickname Dora, the second answered Mi-la, the third owned up to So-la, while the youngest generally got Ti-do.

"Where it lacks,"

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

WHERE IT LACKS.

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

WHERE IT LACKS.

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

A Girl's Preparedness

There is something very pitiful about a girl. She wears calico, but talks knowingly about the latest styles in silks. Her home is furnished plainly, but she knows the latest styles in furniture; she knows how the silverware should be arranged at dinner, the latest stitch for the marking of monograms on the finest table damask, the etiquette to be observed at a dinner, a reception or a ball, although she never attended anything more than a neighborhood party in her life. Her father's monthly income is not as large as the pin-money a rich girl would spend in a day, but she knows what the rich girl should wear and buy to be in touch with the times. She is, in short, prepared at any time to marry a rich man and become a society leader.—Athenian Globe.

WHERE IT LACKS.

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

WHERE IT LACKS.

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

WHERE IT LACKS.

In its sporting department the Taft Administration is well abreast of its predecessor, but in its vaudeville features it is far behind.—Kansas City Journal.

The Modern Passion for Religiousness

Can the world be reformed and social as well as personal righteousness attained and held fast to without the Christ and the teaching of the Gospels? P. T. Forsyth in The Hibbert Journal (Boston) declares that the world at present is trying to prove that the doctrine of Christ is not necessary for the moral emancipation of the race. Yet never was there a time when social righteousness and personal righteousness found such earnest advocates. This writer speaks as follows of "The modern passion for righteousness":

"The demand grows for a reconstruction, a revolution if need be, of the social order in the interest of an ideal righteousness of no private interpretation. Public justice slowly but surely bears down private interests. It emerges more clearly as the dividing line between the two great parties, it seizes some people so vehemently that it becomes their religion; and personal religion wanes in consequence, and with it, the membership of the churches. There was never an age when the passion for public righteousness covered so many, or promised so much."

Together with this appears a turning away from theology. This is accompanied by a turning away from Christ as a "moral fact" of the present. He thus comes to be looked upon as a historical figure of the past; they disregard altogether the idea of "judgment to come." On this point Mr. Forsyth observes of these secularist reformers:

"They have never taken due measure of Christ as a moral fact, still less as a moral factor in history. They have indeed been interested in the historical Christ, and they have owned the spell of his character in the procession of prophets. Carlyle did, for instance. But they have not dealt as seriously with the moral meaning of the fact as with its moral effect, or its esthetic or historical aspect. They have never integrated him into the moral philosophy of history, into the grand moral psychology, into the spiritual organism of the race—as theology has at least tried to do. The historic or the ethical sense will carry a man far. But it will not carry him as far as the person of Christ takes him, if he give to that path a mind unstinted by scientific methods, or unassisted by religious sentiment. You cannot treat Christ adequately by the historic sense, psychic research, cosmic emotion, the canons of natural ethic, or tender affection. The only adequate treatment of a fact so unique as Christ is the treatment proper to the moral nature of such a fact, the treatment it elicits and inspires, the treatment to which, in the first disciples, we owe anything that we know about him, the treatment by faith."

The idea of a personal being setting the standard of personal and social righteousness is absolutely necessary if we would give an adequate basis and motive, or any permanent principle to social and personal righteousness. Christ must be taken as judging, surveying and controlling the moral issues of the time. To quote further:

"It is strange that there should be such borne, not to say vulgar, aversion for the theologian. He is simply an ethicist, on a more than cosmic scale, upon the authority of the cross. He is the rational expositor of a cosmic righteousness revealed as the infinite holiness. He faces, he inhabits, a world of moral realities whose action is perfectly sure and infrangible, which is not mocked, and whose laws in their kind are no more to be defied with impunity than those of nature; for God spared not his own Son. . . . A Christ who stood fixed only at a point in history would be, by his very fixture, a transitory Christ, because but a temporary. A Christ merely ideal, stationed at a fixed point on earth but magnified to an ideal upon the clouds, would become a Brockengespenst. He would be a mirage whose very grandeur and purity would shame us far more than help us. And he would shimmer before us like an aurora, when we needed to be warmed and reared by a perennial sun."

The new passion for righteousness must end upward in a new sense of judgment; and especially among the religious. If their ethic is to grow more delicate and penetrating as well as more urgent. Social righteousness, unaccompanied by moral delicacy and penetration, could easily become another phase of Pharisaism. Love without holiness lends itself too easily to dissimulation, to untruth. But to give God's judgment its due place in public righteousness is to raise ethic to religion, righteousness to holiness, and to make some kind of atonement inseparable from real faith on any social scale."—Literary Digest.

Twenty Years Ago in Oakland

Chief of Police Tompkins is modest in his estimate of expenses for the current fiscal year. He figures the total cost of running the department for a year to be $48,420. George H. Carlton, superintendent of fire alarm and telegraph, estimates the amount needed for his department to be $5,338.30.

The records of the health department show that there were 824 deaths in Oakland during the fiscal year just ended. The population of the city is estimated at 60,000.

W. S. Sharpe, superintendent of the Oakland Electric Light and Motor Company, while attempting to adjust a wire in a motor circuit this morning, received a shock that deprived him of consciousness. He had received the full force of two thirty-light machines.

Mrs. R. H. Poole, mother of Mrs. Adelbert Wilson, was stricken with apoplexy last Monday, and died at her home in San Francisco today.

The Southern Pacific Company has begun the construction of the twenty mile extension of the Tracy branch, better known as the San Joaquin division.

The Oakland and Berkeley Rapid Transit Railroad will probably ask for a franchise at the meeting of the city council on Monday. The line of the road will extend from University avenue in Berkeley to the corner of Thirteenth street in Oakland, and thence to the corner of Second street and Broadway.

Friday evening Daniel Frohman's Lyceum company of New York will begin a two nights' engagement at the new Oakland theater.

Driver Joe Rounde denies that the Tubbs Hotel street car team ran away. He says that it is his custom to drive the horses to water and they return to the car unattended. This gave rise to the report of the runaway.

Charles D. Boardman, Socrates Huff, Charles Overacker, Dr. Russell Cool and George W. Reed have returned from their summer vacation with strange tales of adventure in the wilds of Trinity county. While in camp Overacker was dubbed Rattlesnake Charlie.

George Crist, son of C. F. Crist, the East Oakland tanner, will marry Miss Carrie Sieve of West Oakland tomorrow evening.

Mayor Glascock is an old time ball player. He was a member of the Wideawakes of Oakland when they were champions of the State.

The engagement is announced of Raoul F. Dubernet of East Oakland and Miss Kittle L. Manning of Jackson street.

The report of the city superintendent of schools shows that the total number of white children in the schools here is 2340.

E. H. Cliff has put in an answer to the complaint for divorce filed by Mrs. L. H. Cliff. The defense is condemnation.

"Bobolink Mayme" was in the prisoner's dock in the police court this morning.

Reflections of a Bachelor

A girl stands being red headed by calling it some other name.

If there is no giving or taking in marriage in the next world, when do the old maid get their chance?

A woman seems to think it is much worse to grow old than to start a church row over somebody who said so about her.

If a man could make a lot of money going fishing, he'd think it was more fun to be in an office, if he didn't get paid for it.

The reason a woman starts to run back from the middle of a street crossing when she sees a carriage coming is she can get worse scared that way.

His mother fools a boy about what a good time he has at Sunday school, and he fools himself about what fun it is to smother himself in the coal bin playing hide and seek.

What makes a man so lonesome for his wife when the family is away for the summer is there's nobody to blame because it rains on the day he was going to a baseball game.

Topics, Timely and Interesting

Mr. Williams, Commissioner of Immigration, is being attacked by certain champions of unfortunate immigrants, but he will doubtless know how to defend himself. He has vigor and ability and is not an impulsive or erratic official. He realizes that his office requires the use of common sense, of discrimination of humanity. Inelastic rules would result in "hard cases" and in protests too general to go unheeded. But to nullify the law by making the standards of admission farcical is a violation of duty and usurpation of power.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The coming Presidential election in Mexico is one of the most important that the republic has been up against. Diaz is now an old man. His exact age is 78 years and 10 months. He was born on September 15, 1850. The chances are against his surviving through the coming term, and the question of the vice president is the real live issue before the country.—Hartford Courant.

There were great tariff revisionists of the past, but they were on the Democratic side. It is one of the amazing incidents of tariff history that the session that has witnessed the development of great Republican aggressors for revision has also witnessed an almost complete absence on the Democratic side in the array of expert and determined leadership.—Kansas City Star.

The reduction of the tax on the net income of corporations to 1 per cent does not make it any more palatable. Any future Congress could raise the rate to any figure that its populist majority liked. It is the principle involved to which conservative interests object.—Boston Transcript.

The Bryan Democrats have carried the House of Representatives, as they had previously carried the Senate, leaving a feeble minority of fourteen to represent the Republican party that was entrusted with political power at the last election.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Governor Deneen is said to contemplate calling a special session of the Legislature. The sole purpose of this session would be to pass another direct primary bill. At least, that is said to be Mr. Deneen's present thought.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

South Pole QUEST IS ONLY FOR AMERICA

Antarctic discovery for the United States is the watchword of the American Philosophical Society, which has asked organizations interested in exploring to co-operate in petitioning the government to undertake the quest for the South Pole in a naval vessel.

Lieutenant Shackleton's exploit and the proposal of Henry Savage Landor, who would head an Anglo-American expedition, have renewed the energies of those who believe that American enterprise should chart the unknown seas and lands of the south.

The Philosophical Society has begun an active campaign for its office in Philadelphia and has gained the co-operation of several similar associations. The American Geographical Society of this city is already on record in favor of the equipping of an expedition to the Antarctic. It calls attention to the fact that the first discovery in those latitudes was made by Rear Admiral Wilkes of the United States in 1839, when he went in an American man-of-war upon his explorations. He at that time only reported on the sighting of various headlands, without determining whether they were those of a new continent or of islands.

Credit of taking the initiative in the far south belongs to the United States, and the various learned societies are doing all they can to renew the interest of the government in the project. Official representations will be made this fall, when there will be more opportunity of getting the formal vote of the organizations on the scheme.

While it is possible that private citizens will contribute to the funds for equipping such an expedition and that scientists would volunteer their aid, the promoters of the plan think that the navy should have the honor of finishing the work which it commenced three-quarters of a century ago. They would see the expedition go in a stout vessel of the United States navy, in command of an officer who might be especially interested in such a task from a scientific point of view. Associated with him would be volunteers from the navy. It is believed that a craft well provisioned and well manned could make a quick dash for the South Pole.

It was said recently by a member of the American Geographical Society that those interested in the project would not in any way favor the "Anglo-American" expedition suggested by Mr. Landor.—New York Herald.

Famous Men Have Their 'Lucky' Days

It has lately been pointed out that the English Winston Churchill seems to have a special penchant for Saturday. On that day he was born, on that day he escaped from the Boers, and on that day he was elected M. P. for Dundee, on that day he received his first ministerial appointment and on that day he was married.

King Edward has a partiality for Tuesday. He was born on a Tuesday in November, 1841, and was married on a Tuesday, in March, 1863. It was on a Tuesday, too, in September, 1871, that he passed the crisis of his one terrible illness—an illness, as all the world knows, which came within an ace of proving fatal—and, lastly, he succeeded to the throne on Tuesday, January 22, 1901.

Lord Roberts follows his sovereign in his partiality for the third day of the week. The mere recital of the happenings during the Boer war is sufficient to show why he looks upon "lucky Tuesday," as he calls it, as his mascot day. On a Tuesday he began his famous march across the Orange Free State; on a Tuesday General Cronje surrendered to him; on a Tuesday he entered Tientsin; and Tuesday he hoisted the union jack over Pretoria.

Friday is almost universally—and especially amongst sailors—looked upon as an unlucky day, but Lord Kitchener does not share in this belief. Many of the most important incidents in his lordship's career have happened on that day. Lord Kitchener himself has pointed out that one of the world's greatest sailors, Christopher Columbus, shared with him his belief in Friday, for almost the whole of the career of the discoverer of America occurred on that day. It was on a Friday that Columbus set out from Spain to seek a new world; on Friday that he first caught sight of land; on Friday that he started on his return voyage; on Friday that he safely arrived back in Spain; on Friday that he first sighted the American mainland on his next voyage; on Friday that he first set foot upon it; and again on Friday that he landed in his native land.

In one of the Boston's primary schools the other day the head master of the district presented a problem for the scholars that would require the use of fractions. He expected the answer "I don't know." The problem: "If I had eight potatoes how could I divide them among nine boys?" One bright-looking youngster raised his hand. "Well," said the master, "dash them," promptly replied the young mathematician.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Representative Payne of New York uttered the significant warning that an income tax would tend to make a nation of liars and to tax honest men for the benefit of rascals. The weight of this objection will be felt more and more as the people of the various States study the proposed measure, and the more it is studied the greater will grow the probability of its defeat.—Evening Wisconsin.

It is, then, the independent voter, chafing at the restrictions of party lines and obligations, that occupies the overshadowing role of final arbiter in American politics. There is reason, as the Republic states, to believe that millions of his kind will be nursed into activity in the next few years by Republican bad faith and extravagance.—Atlanta Constitution.

The statement is made that the net public debt of this Commonwealth has been virtually extinguished, since the amount provided in the sinking fund is practically equal to all the State's obligations. This is a gratifying condition, and it emphatically recalls once more the folly and fealty of the assertions which have been published in other portions of the country regarding the finances of Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Democrats of the South and the so-called "Progressive" Republicans of the West almost invariably favor the popular election of senators plan. Practically speaking, they are using it today through devices of their own for circumventing the Constitution.—Boston Transcript.

There is very little talk about a tariff veto, and there seems small warrant for any. A veto would produce such an extraordinary situation both for the Republicans and the country that all pressure will be brought to bear to prevent matters taking that shape. A veto is not out of the question, but it is very improbable. The Republican leaders are veterans, and know the value of union, and how in a pinch to hold the party together.—Washington Star.

As a result of investigation into the conduct of certain New York city officials the discovery of abuse of trust is more common than that of violation of law.—Boston Transcript.

If the political bosses can regulate building material in the interest of their friends and compel the public service corporations and municipal authorities to use the "friends' material" to the exclusion of all others, there is no limit to the "kraft" which they may secure.—Baltimore Sun.

Why Laws Are Broken

There are some laws which at the time of their enactment were accurate expressions of public opinion. But public opinion has changed, and has neglected to make the laws change with it. There are other laws which never did express public opinion, but which were enacted and have been retained on the statute book through the indifference of a public opinion which is at heart hostile to them, or through its neglect or its inability to assert itself with effective expression. The reproach has often been uttered that we are a lawbreaking nation. At least we must plead guilty to too little regard for law and to too little insistence upon its uniformly being what in theory it is and what in fact it should be—the formal expression of enlightened public opinion.—New York Tribune.

Dogs Superior to Man

Dogs are property. Men are merely human beings, and as compared with the rights of property in dogs the rights of human beings are for the most part by the board. The owners of dog property may be, and usually are, outnumbered four or fifty to one in any well settled community, but the minority's dog property may make night hideous for the majority and apparently the majority is helpless, without redress. Such are the safeguards which the law throws around property in dogs that it is more difficult to prove that the dogs of any given owner are pestiferous disturbers of the peace than it is to prove a human being guilty of murder. Those who have tried this have found it to be so.—New York Evening Sun.

Snapshots of Humorists

Not long ago a portly gentleman seated himself upon a bench in one of the public parks, drew forth a newspaper from his pocket, and was soon absorbed in reading. After a while he began to be annoyed by a small boy, who persisted in staring at him steadily. At last the man demanded sharply, "What are you looking at, boy? Is there anything funny about me?"

"Not yet," replied the boy; "but there's a whole circus full of fun when you get up. Them benches has just been painted."

"He—But I tell you what it is, Maude; if your father is at all unreasonable I shall put my back to the wall and—"

"She—Keep it there. That would be the safest position.—Kansas City Journal.

"You persuaded your husband to join a glue club?"

"Yes," answered Mrs. Bilgins. "When he starts to sing at home I can now advise him not to tire his voice and when he sings at the club I can't hear him."—Trib-Bits.

"Your mascot hasn't any luck at all. Can give you a good name for it?"

"Well, what is it?"

"Consumer."—Cleveland Leader.

News Gathered From Religious Workers

CAMP MEETING WILL BE OPENED AT BEULAH PARK

Christian and Missionary Alliance Gatherings Will Begin This Evening

To insure publication in church notices must be in THE TRIBUNE office not later than noon Friday.

THE Christian and Missionary Alliance Campmeeting opens this evening at Beulah Park, East Oakland. The services on Sunday will begin with a prayer meeting at 9:30 a. m., followed by Bible study at 10 a. m., preaching at 10:30 a. m., children's meeting at 1:30 p. m., preaching at 2:30 p. m., young people's meeting at 6:15 p. m., and evening services at 7:30 p. m. The speakers will be Rev. C. W. DeLoach of Berkeley, Pennsylvania; Rev. C. W. DeLoach of Berkeley, Pennsylvania; Rev. J. W. Davis, missionary from Palestine; Mrs. L. F. Turnbull, missionary from India and others. Rev. J. E. Jaderquist of Oakland is in charge of local arrangements. Delegates have begun to arrive from Stockton, Denair, Santa Rosa and other points in this section of the State.

Musical Services

Continued popularity was manifested in the half-hour recitals given at Trinity Episcopal Church, corner of Twenty-ninth and Telegraph Avenue, this afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Parsons, a well known San Francisco soprano, rendered "Save Me, O God," by Handel; "The Organ Song," by Schumann; and "The Organ Song," by Schumann.

The third recital of the series takes place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. J. W. Gathright, the popular local baritone, will sing "Judge Me, O God," by Handel; "The Organ Song," by Schumann; and "The Organ Song," by Schumann.

Following the recital, the regular Sunday evening service will take place at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. G. D. Carter will sing for an offertory, "Show Me Thy Ways, O God."

St. Mary's Choir

At the 11 a. m. high mass at St. Mary's, corner Tenth and Jefferson streets, the Oakland Conservatory of Music choir, under the leadership of its director, Adolf Gregory, will render the Kyrie and Gloria from Gounod's Messe Solenne and the Credo. Sunday, August 3, the choir will sing "The Mass of St. John," by Gounod, and "The Mass of St. John," by Gounod.

In the evening at 7:30 p. m. the choir will sing "The Mass of St. John," by Gounod, and "The Mass of St. John," by Gounod.

Anty Drudge Tells Why Mary Doesn't Object to a Big Wash.

Father—"Just look at the condition of the kids' clothes! Where do you suppose they pick up the dirt? You'll have Mary making an awful kick about the heavy wash. Why I'll bet she has to do up a dozen dresses every week for the babies!"

Anty Drudge—"More than that, son-in-law. I suppose it's nearer two dozen. But so long as she has Fels-Naptha soap on washday, Mary will never say a word."

Every mother knows what a lot of fun the baby gets out of crawling about the floor and making its tiny self just as dirty as a little pig.

But every mother has looked with alarm at the array of baby clothes to be washed on Monday morning.

And every one has seen with despair how the delicate little garments are cooked to pieces in the destructive washboiler.

But all that was before the Fels-Naptha wash-way became known.

The Fels-Naptha way means that baby's soiled clothes are cleansed quickly in cool or lukewarm water without the roasting fire, summer or winter—without the seething suds, without the terrific back-breaking rub, rub, rub.

What's the result? Why—
Fuel saved
Time saved Temper saved
Fabric saved

Insist on the red and green wrapper, and follow the printed directions.

STEARNS' ELECTRIC RAT AND ROACH PASTE

STEARNS' ELECTRIC RAT AND ROACH PASTE CO., Chicago, Ill.

MRS. GEORGE C. CARTER, Soloist, at Trinity Episcopal Church.

—Hudson Photo.

A Brief Sermon for Busy Readers

PURE AND SPURIOUS CHRISTIANITY

THE crying need of the world today is the application in and to their lives of the true principles of the religion of Christ. True Christianity is that system of moral and spiritual ethics revealed through and taught by Christ and his ordained ministers, a record of which is written in the Bible—God saw the world under the bondage of sin and so loved mankind that he sent his Son that whosoever believed in Him might obtain a freedom from this bondage of sin.

Socrates said: "We must wait till some one come from God to teach us." Plato, another heathen philosopher, said: "It is necessary that a law-giver be sent from heaven to instruct us." Nicodemus said: "We know Thou art a teacher come from God." So we present in harmony with the Bible Jesus Christ as the greatest teacher, law-giver, leader, witness and commander that ever trod the earth.

Jesus emphasized the thought that strict and complete obedience is necessary to a fullness of the world, he said: "Teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." He said again: "If ye continue in my word ye shall know the Truth and the Truth shall set you free."

Jesus was an innovator in that he introduced a strange and novel doctrine. He was an exclusivist in that he did not accept the churches and creeds of his day, stating: "You make void there are creeds and systems of religious today by the hundreds, each differing from all others in some doctrinal point. The thinking mind is bewildered as it goes out to find a church home. If Jesus was to appear in Oakland today at which church would he go out to find a church home. If he would find a welcome? The logical answer would be with that church and under that creed that would most closely harmonize with the creed or doctrines he taught and in whose pulpit and pews there would be a welcome to the same divine Holy Ghost that was poured out upon the apostles. So let us take the Blessed Bible as our guide book and go in search of such a church.

How can we preach Christ as a divine teacher without teaching these, His doctrines? How can the clergy of our day represent Jesus as the commander and fall to tell the world about these doctrines that were revealed through Him and he bore to the world? Why ostracize the name of Jesus Christ and cast aside those who believe in the message of the Holy Ghost? Discover the church he organized, the doctrine he taught, the spirit bestowed upon the church, are each and all an exact counterpart of the church and doctrine and spirit of the church of Christ? For what false doctrine are we condemned? For what sin was he slain? The answer is plain. The church of Christ, as revealed in the Bible, has come, the church is once more established with all the ancient creeds and doctrines and the Lord is recognizing His church as formerly. A further investigation of this doctrine is solicited.

[Pastor Reorganized Latter Day Saints Church, also president of Northern California District Church, Sixteenth and Magnolia streets. Residence, 1230 Magnolia Street, Oakland, Cal.]

For Father Gee

At St. John's Church, Eighth and Grove streets, there will be held special services tomorrow to mark the tenth anniversary of Father Gee's ordination to the Diaconate by Bishop Nichols.

Father Gee, who has been in Europe on a vacation for the past two months, will be present, as will all Bishop Nichols. There will be special music at both the morning and evening services and the following program has been outlined: Low celebration of Holy Eucharist (at 10 a. m.); sermon, 10 a. m.; matins (at 11 a. m.); sermon, 11 a. m.; procession and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

Episcopal

Trinity Episcopal Church, Rev. C. Macdonald, rector, 16 a. m. morning prayer and sermon, by the rector at 11 a. m., special musical service at 10 a. m., evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:45 p. m.; matins (at 11 a. m.); sermon, 11 a. m.; procession and sermon, 7:30 p. m.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Grand Avenue and Clay streets, Rev. A. Allen, rector, Holy Communion, 8 a. m.; Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon by the rector, 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Chapel of the Good Samaritan, corner of Ninth and Clay streets, Rev. J. S. Sowerbutts, rector, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Methodist

First Methodist Episcopal Church, Fourteenth and Clay streets, Rev. W. H. White, pastor, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Epworth League, 4:45 p. m. at 11 a. m. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon by the rector, 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Epworth League, 4:45 p. m. at 11 a. m. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon by the rector, 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Baptist

First Baptist Church, Telegraph Avenue, corner Jones street, Rev. Dr. Vosburgh, pastor, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Epworth League, 4:45 p. m. at 11 a. m. Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon by the rector, 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the rector, 7:30 p. m.

Presbyterian

First Presbyterian Church, Fourteenth and Franklin streets, Rev. P. L. Goodspeed, D. D., pastor, 11 a. m.; morning worship and preaching by the pastor, subject "The Christ Point," 7:30 p. m.; evening worship and sermon by the pastor, 7:30 p. m.

DANGER

STEARNS' ELECTRIC RAT AND ROACH PASTE

A Brief Sermon for Busy Readers

PURE AND SPURIOUS CHRISTIANITY

THE crying need of the world today is the application in and to their lives of the true principles of the religion of Christ. True Christianity is that system of moral and spiritual ethics revealed through and taught by Christ and his ordained ministers, a record of which is written in the Bible—God saw the world under the bondage of sin and so loved mankind that he sent his Son that whosoever believed in Him might obtain a freedom from this bondage of sin.

Socrates said: "We must wait till some one come from God to teach us." Plato, another heathen philosopher, said: "It is necessary that a law-giver be sent from heaven to instruct us." Nicodemus said: "We know Thou art a teacher come from God." So we present in harmony with the Bible Jesus Christ as the greatest teacher, law-giver, leader, witness and commander that ever trod the earth.

Jesus emphasized the thought that strict and complete obedience is necessary to a fullness of the world, he said: "Teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you." He said again: "If ye continue in my word ye shall know the Truth and the Truth shall set you free."

Jesus was an innovator in that he introduced a strange and novel doctrine. He was an exclusivist in that he did not accept the churches and creeds of his day, stating: "You make void there are creeds and systems of religious today by the hundreds, each differing from all others in some doctrinal point. The thinking mind is bewildered as it goes out to find a church home. If Jesus was to appear in Oakland today at which church would he go out to find a church home. If he would find a welcome? The logical answer would be with that church and under that creed that would most closely harmonize with the creed or doctrines he taught and in whose pulpit and pews there would be a welcome to the same divine Holy Ghost that was poured out upon the apostles. So let us take the Blessed Bible as our guide book and go in search of such a church.

How can we preach Christ as a divine teacher without teaching these, His doctrines? How can the clergy of our day represent Jesus as the commander and fall to tell the world about these doctrines that were revealed through Him and he bore to the world? Why ostracize the name of Jesus Christ and cast aside those who believe in the message of the Holy Ghost? Discover the church he organized, the doctrine he taught, the spirit bestowed upon the church, are each and all an exact counterpart of the church and doctrine and spirit of the church of Christ? For what false doctrine are we condemned? For what sin was he slain? The answer is plain. The church of Christ, as revealed in the Bible, has come, the church is once more established with all the ancient creeds and doctrines and the Lord is recognizing His church as formerly. A further investigation of this doctrine is solicited.

[Pastor Reorganized Latter Day Saints Church, also president of Northern California District Church, Sixteenth and Magnolia streets. Residence, 1230 Magnolia Street, Oakland, Cal.]

United Presbyterian

First United Presbyterian Church, corner of Tenth and Eighteenth streets, Rev. Paul Stewart, pastor, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the pastor, 7:30 p. m.

Congregational

First Congregational Church, Rev. Chas. E. Brown, pastor, 11 a. m.; Sunday school, 2:30 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon by the pastor, 7:30 p. m.

Christian Science

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Franklin and Seventeenth streets—Sermon, Sunday, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.; subject, "The Beautiful, Brilliant and Believable Life." Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Tenth and Perimeter streets, Leslie B. Briggs, minister—Morning, "Where Are the Children?" Evening, "Our Problem of Immigration."

Knights of Columbus

SAN RAFAEL, July 24. — San Rafael was visited this week by over 600 Knights of Columbus from the various towns around the bay, including Napa, Santa Rosa, Petaluma, San Jose and Vallejo, the occasion being the conferring of the first, second and third degrees on six new members of the local council.

The first degree was conferred Sunday morning by the officers of the San Rafael council, Grand Knight Orey J. Short, presiding.

At 2 p. m. the Vallejo council put on the second degree, Grand Knight John Cunningham officiating.

The third degree was exemplified by Theo. J. Savage, past State deputy, and the State degree team.

After the ceremonies the degree officials dined at the Hotel Rafael as the guests of the San Rafael council.

GIVE BELL TO CHURCH.

SAN MATEO, July 24. — Through the efforts of a number of society women, headed by Mrs. Frederick Kohl, an expensive bell has been placed in position at the St. Matthew's Catholic church. The bell, which was imported from the east, although only of medium size, is very rich in tone. Among those interested in the bell in the installation were Mrs. Joseph Sadoc Tobin, Countess de Tristan, Mrs. Charles West Clark and Mrs. Joseph Oliver Tobin.

Wellman

MELTING Sugar Peas Aristocrats of the vegetable garden

Small Tender Melting Delicious

WELLMAN means QUALITY FOOD Fruits, vegetables, sea food, coffee, teas, many package groceries

"Delicious things for your table Come under the Wellman label"

At your grocers — If not, send us his name — we'll see you get it — and will mail you a beautiful recipe booklet.

WELLMAN, PECK & CO., San Francisco

PERRIN RENEWS FIGHT IN COURTS

Senator Borah Asked by Doctor to Assist in Getting Speedy Trial

WASHINGTON, July 24. — Dr. Perrin, who rests under the stigma of being convicted of certain irregularities in connection with the land laws, is in Washington. His alleged purpose is to have official instructions issued for his release on August 7, when his case is set, or else dismissed. He fears that the case will be postponed from time to time.

He has asked Senator Borah to assist him and the Senator said today: "I think Dr. Perrin ought to have a speedy trial. It is notorious that they fail to give trials without any reason whatever. It is just as much to the interest of the public that guilty men be tried and punished as that innocent men be tried and freed. One defendant in California had waited twenty years and the government prosecutors lost sight of him entirely. I have a bill in committee which is intended to meet this evil. Dr. Perrin's is a case in point."

DANGER ARRESTED FOR SCANT ATTIRE

Gertrude Hoffman's "Spring Song" Dance Too True to Nature to Suit Police

NEW YORK, July 24. — Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, was arrested last evening just after leaving the stage of Hammerstein's roof garden, where she appeared in the "Mendelssohn's Spring Song" dance. She was charged with violating a section of the penal code which relates to immodest performances.

She was taken to a police station, where Commissioner Baker and Deputy Stover were at the time. The dancer wore an automobile coat over her scanty costume. She was accompanied by her husband, Max Hoffman.

Mrs. Hoffman was excited and protested against her arrest. She declared she had been doing the "Mendelssohn Spring Song" dance for a long time and had never been interfered with before. Soon after she appeared in the station George Corbin provided for her. The police said there was a marked lack of decency in the staging of the dance.

Schools and Colleges

St. Matthew's Military School

HURLINGAME, CAL. Founded 1886. Prepares for universities or for active life. For illustrated catalogue address REV. WILLIAM A. BRWERT, Rector.

BOONE'S UNIVERSITY SCHOOL

FOR BOYS, Berkeley Will begin its 25th year Tuesday, August 10th. Accredited to the State University, Stanford, University of Pennsylvania, Cornell and Michigan. Apply for catalogue to P. R. BOONE, Principal.

Hoitt School

PAULO ALTO, CAL. Modern home school for boys. Prepares for universities or business. 37th Semester August 10. Address, Principal.

MISS RANSOM'S SCHOOL

HIGHLAND AVE., PIEDMONT, will open on Wednesday, August 28. Accredited to the University of California. Sunny one-story school on 3000 acres within half a block of single daily sessions, 8:45-1:15. Telephone, Piedmont 265.

Wireless Telegraphy FREE

For the next 30 days with each course in Morse Telegraphy, and Radioing will be given. The new profession. Operators have easy work and good pay. Many chances to travel without expense. Write for free literature. Address: COLLEGE OF WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY, 105 Fairchild Building, Oakland.

Parsons' Private School

REOPENS AUGUST 9. All grades; primary grammar and high school, 13th street, 864 Thirty-fourth Street, Oakland.

ST. MARY'S ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Eight and Jefferson streets. On Sundays and Holy Days: Low mass at 6, 8 and 10 o'clock; Vespers and sermon at 11 o'clock; wedding and sermon at 7:30 p. m.; music by the Oakland Conservatory of Music choir.

MEETS FUTURE WIFE AT AMATEUR THEATRICALS

VALLEJO, July 24. — Bandmaster Charles Douglas of the flag-ship West Virginia and Miss Edna Earl, a well-known San Francisco girl, who is its vaudeville, have been married.

Douglas appeared at an amateur theatrical performance during an engagement of Miss Earl. The friendship was followed by a better acquaintance and marriage.

A NOTED PSYCHIC.

Considerable interest is being shown in the arrival in this city of Mr. Evans, a famous psychic, whose marvelous phenomena demonstrations have earned the admiration of the leading psychical and spiritualistic societies and journals of the world. Mr. Evans is located at 1280 Telegraph Avenue.

A Golden Wedding

means that man and wife have lived to a good old age and consequently have kept healthy. The best way to keep healthy is to see that your liver does its duty 365 days out of 365. The only way to do this is to keep Ball's Hair, Blue in the house and take it whenever your liver gets inactive. 50 cents per bottle. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.

TO GO ON AUTO TOUR.

SAN LEANING, July 24. — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hirsch and family will leave tomorrow morning in their touring car for Gilroy Hot Springs, where they will spend several weeks. They will then return by way of Byron Springs, in which place they will finish their vacation.

Becoming a mother should be a source of joy, but the suffering incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of dread. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of much of the pain of maternity; this hour, dreaded as woman's severest trial, is not only made less painful, but danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, and the system is prepared for the coming event. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book of value to all expectant mothers mailed free.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.

Atlanta, Ga.

"BABY MINE"

pair of maternity; this hour, dreaded as woman's severest trial, is not only made less painful, but danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, and the system is prepared for the coming event. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book of value to all expectant mothers mailed free.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

pair of maternity; this hour, dreaded as woman's severest trial, is not only made less painful, but danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, nausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, and the system is prepared for the coming event. "It is worth its weight in gold," says many who have used it. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. Book of value to all expectant mothers mailed free.

See Great Salt Lake and High Sierras by Daylight

Tickets good on Overland Limited.

Sale dates August 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, final return September 15th. Slight additional charge via Los Angeles.

Southern Pacific Company

G. T. FORSYTH, W. F. HOLTON, D. F. and P. Agt. C. P. and T. Agt. COR. THIRTEENTH and FRANKLIN STS., OAKLAND

Phones—Oakland 543 or Home A 2543.

$31.10 $31.10

SALT LAKE CITY

AND RETURN

See Great Salt Lake and High Sierras by Daylight

Tickets good on Overland Limited.

Sale dates August 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, final return September 15th. Slight additional charge via Los Angeles.

Southern Pacific Company

G. T. FORSYTH, W. F. HOLTON, D. F. and P. Agt. C. P. and T. Agt. COR. THIRTEENTH and FRANKLIN STS., OAKLAND

Phones—Oakland 543 or Home A 2543.

THE MEDDLER

IDA H. NELSON.

—Scharz Photo.

MISS FRANCES KELEHER.

—Scharz Photo.

WHILE in the heart of the mid-summer season, and it brings different and new plans to many homes. Almost every family plans, if possible, a summer outing—sometimes for weeks, sometimes for a few days only. Some people wander far afield, while others find rest and recreation much nearer home. The change of climate and the change of scene being the two leading elements marking the enjoyment of the summer holiday time. In this land of little rain in mid-summer, there is no need for the simplest of preparations, and it is well to note that camp life is taking hold of our people, just as it has spread in the East.

Of course, it is not the camp of the old days, with its dirt and its discomfort, but the camp life which is simple, but to which civilization has brought the real comforts of home. The East has developed the beautiful and picturesque camps of the Adirondacks, where New York's wealthiest residents go for the summer—camps electric lighted, with running water piped to the camps, and tents that are models of comfort—and Californians, with their beautiful climate to begin on, are copying the tent life of the Eastern mountain resorts. They have found that it is possible to establish home in the heart of the most beautiful and picturesque places that Nature has planned for man's habitation, and the summer days are dreams. So one finds the most prominent Easterners enjoying tent life among the pine-clad mountains, and among our own people—those who can afford it—established summer homes of their own, long lines truly artistic, as one finds them in camps, such as are developed in a very remarkable fashion in Yosemite valley.

What a boon the picture postals are to be sure, to us all nowadays! No one expects us to write long letters—except to our own families—but a picture post card takes love from us to our intimate friends and an affectionate message to others—who appreciate our thought of them.

Nothing more to the comfort of travellers has ever been invented than the picture post card. And incidentally if we forget to send them, we cannot hope for forgiveness on our return from our wanderings.

CALIFORNIA GIRLS CAREFULLY DRESSED

One notices in traveling about the state how very carefully dressed most of the California girls are—and how very picturesque most of them are—in the khaki suits, which are the only appropriate things to mountaineering and climbing, or for mountain coasting.

One reads of the Eastern girl at Bar Harbor, the great Atlantic summer resort of Maine, and the same description applies to girls farther south on the Atlantic coast.

The fads and fancies affected by the summer girl here this season are many and varied. Just at present the fad for the younger set is to promenade the streets with a very mannish walking stick. The toilets seen on the streets are mostly very simple. Indeed, simplicity seems to be the fad in dress here this summer. An avoidance of the extreme is noticeable. It is at the smaller resorts, where a good time is more looked for, and the out-of-door life rules exclusively, that the more extreme fashions are evident, and already sunburned, hatless excursionists are coming in from other coast resorts, short-skirted, tanned, and bare-armed, and in a good many cases wearing that abomination of a sailor blouse, hanging straight outside the skirt, affected much by the athletic girl this summer.

Driving also is a renewed fad in the East this year at the many summer resorts, since some resorts, near which are dangerous roads, are planning the total exclusion of the automobile.

Of course one always meets women of mature years and fair maids of much younger years, to whom one would be glad to read a lecture on "The Eternal Fitness of Things." Life in a camp means simple clothes, and silks, and satins, and lustrous gowns are entirely out of place. The simple life means simple dress—and to be appropriately gowned gives a girl a long start on the road to social success in her summer vacation days.

GUESTS IN CAMP AND AT HOTELS

A book might readily be written in regard to the manners of the many guests at our various camps and hotels. There are, of course, the pushing cavers, who never, after all, really "arrive," but they are easily seen through and one may always be amid them. But the woman one admires most is the courteous, well-bred woman, who is never afraid of her position. One finds her thoughtful of her neighbors at the hotel table, passing to them, with a polite readiness, those things which are beyond their reach. One does not strike up an intimacy with a stranger simply because one is consideeate of the other, and the really popular woman is the one who is politely well bred, and yet, with a due meed of reserve.

The public dining rooms are all crowded in these summer days, and one has need to possess her soul in patience, and help her neighbor as well as herself.

The foreigners whom you meet at our summer resorts invariably bow to you as they take their seats at the table, and again when they rise, and indeed the fashion has much to commend it. It is so much better than the frozen stare which one sometimes encounters from one's neighbor across the table.

Not long ago, in a crowded resort, a well-known woman of San Francisco was asked if she would kindly "pass the bread."

"Call the maid—she is over there," she answered.

She may have been impressed with her own great importance and the dignity of her position, but her seat mates at the table promptly sized her up for exactly what she was—a woman who had never had much in the ways of her childhood—one of the ill-bred women of wealth, of whom California has often in the past had reason to be ashamed.

The little boy at the table was a joy to all the company, and a smile twinkled on every face as he greeted her departure with the one emphatic ejaculation, "Old frozen face!"

They tell us what to bring for the summer vacation in the way of clothes—there are other things that they might suggest for us to bring—for instance, our patience—our good temper—and our good manners!

MR. AND MRS. MACKINNON AT SAG HARBOR

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mackinnon have been the guests of Frank C. Havens at Sag Harbor. Mr. Mackinnon reports very warm weather in Rhode Island. After spending some days with Mr. Havens, the Mackinnons will stop several weeks at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

STYLES ARE REALLY ASHAMED OF THEMSELVES

The latest cry from New York brings words of comfort in regard to one's summer wardrobe, and, after all, one cannot do better than follow the advice of a good critic, who said recently:

"Never be the first to take up a new fashion nor the last to drop it." Fortunately for all women, the styles have become so ashamed of themselves in the capers they cut up last winter that they are quite penitent. There is no bravado about them. They are almost conventional, for which the mass of women are profoundly grateful.

Another thing to be happy over is that styles are becoming to the great majority this year. For the last twelve months they were intended only for youth and beauty. None but a woman with symmetrical lines and a charming face could have emerged victoriously from the clothes in which she was dressed. Extreme things still exist. Many women remain queer in the silhouette. The first fashions, however, approve of clothes that are not caricatures.

CALIFORNIANS IN THE EAST

News notes from the East and abroad continue to be of more than the usual degree of interest. Mrs. Rutherford and her daughter, Miss Mabel Rutherford, are in Europe and have recently spent some delightful days in Scotland. They are both experienced travelers, and plan long trips away each summer. They have been abroad twice before, and so are able to plan an itinerary of unusual interest.

From abroad comes also the news that Dr. and Mrs. George Martin of Berlin are to sail almost immediately for America. Dr. Martin is one of the best-known American dentists in Europe, having practiced his profession for many years. Mrs. Martin was formerly Miss Mae Bates, one of the daughters of Mrs. Charles D. Bates, Sr., and for many years now the Martins have made their homes in Germany, and one hears that they are exceedingly popular in Berlin, not only among the American residents there, but also among their large circles of German friends.

Various members of her family have visited Mrs. Martin in Berlin, but the Martins since establishing their home in Germany have not often returned to Oakland.

There will be an enthusiastic welcome for them this summer, and much entertainment will no doubt be planned in their honor, for the family circle is a large one and Mrs. Martin has many school friends, who look forward to her coming with real pleasure.

AMERICAN ARTISTS ABROAD

Among news notes from abroad of American artists, one reads:

"The engagement made in Europe this summer for the Metropolitan opera in New York by Andreas Dippel indicate that the time is not far distant when grand opera in the United States will almost exclusively be sung by American artists. There is not a single first-class opera in Europe today which has not one or two Americans in its ensemble."

In many cases Americans, as in Berlin, are the leading members.

Putnam Griswold, the California basso of the Kaiser's Royal Opera, is coming to the Metropolitan, and other California singers there will be Rita Forman and Nelson.

Many of us who remember well

Putnam Griswold when he worked faithfully in Taft & Penney's establishment are very glad of the success he has achieved abroad, for his hard work has made him one of the famous singers of today.

OAKLAND GIRL IN EUROPE

Among the very attractive girls who are abroad this year is Miss Helen Dornin, who is enjoying one of the most interesting of trips, and writing very picturesque letters about her travels. Miss Dornin is among the most accomplished of the young Oakland girls, being a fine musician, playing exceedingly well. She is a gifted writer, with a style most unique and original, and her letters are properly appreciated by her friends here, for she knows how to describe the beautiful and wonderful things she is seeing, and the histories connected with all of them.

Early in July Miss Dornin was in Florence, and before arriving there with the young girl friends of her party, she spent some time in Naples, Pompeii, Amalfi, and in Sorrento, in which was the home of the late Marian Crawford.

The party of bright young girls spent happy days at Capri, at Pisa, and their stay in Rome was very delightful, and they were granted an audience with the Holy Father, Pope Pius X.

The trip is proving a most successful one, and Miss Dornin is enjoying a very delightful summer travelling in that old world, which has always such a charm for the American of this great western continent.

MRS. EDWARD HERRICK IS IN CAPRI

Mrs. Edward Herrick, whose home was for so many years in Oakland, is travelling extensively in Europe this year, and is spending part of the summer at beautiful Capri. Her sons, Lester Herrick and George Herrick, being now married, and with homes of their own, Mrs. Herrick is free to carry out the plans for travel she has always had.

One hears that all the Americans abroad celebrated in due fashion the recent anniversary of the Fourth of July. Some of them carried little silk American flags, as an expression of patriotic loyalty, and one dignified matron writes home:

"I felt like echoing the sentiments of the small boy in our hotel, who shouted with enthusiasm, 'Gee whizz! this is great all right, but all the same we've got them skinned to death on everything but ancient history!'"

STILL FLOCKING TO THE YOSEMITE

Yosemite Valley continues to be the Mecca of the Californian, for to live in California and not have seen Yosemite Valley carries its own measure of reproach. While the trip is in some ways a hard one, it can still be made in a few days—in strenuous days of sight-seeing.

Of course the travel to Yosemite Valley is all by way of the Yosemite Valley Railroad to El Portal, thence by stages up the magnificent Merced canyon, through the most awe inspiring scenery in the world. Of Yosemite Valley much has been written, but the half has never been told. One must be silent before this most stupendous of Nature's works.

In Yosemite Valley one meets distinguished tourists from all over the world, and last week there came a thousand visitors to the valley.

Among the well-known people from about the bay at Yosemite last week were Professor and Mrs. Louis Valentine Pittson, Professor Pittson being of the family of Yale University; Mrs. Frank J. Sullivan and her son and daughter; Mrs. J. C. McMullin and her granddaughter, Eliza McMullin; Mrs. John F. Connors, Mr. Charles Sutton and his daughter, Carmen Sutton; Miss Jessie Craig, Miss Letty Barry, Miss Anita Thomson and her brother, Dalila Thomson; Mrs. Snowgrass, Miss Cleveland, Mrs. O. D. Hamlin, Oliver Hamlin, and Miss Henrietta Simpson.

Mrs. McMullin and her granddaughter, Eliza McMullin, are to visit friends in Stockton on their return from Yosemite.

Mrs. Hamlin and her son, Oliver Hamlin, were at the Sentinel Hotel in Yosemite Valley, and while there Mrs. Hamlin purchased one of the beautiful paintings of Yosemite, for which Jorgensen, California's well known painter, is famous.

MR. AND MRS. JORGENSEN'S HOUSE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jorgensen are entertaining a house party in their delightful and picturesque bungalow in the heart of Yosemite Valley. It overlooks the dashing Merced River, and great Glacier Point, one of the most celebrated of the Yosemite peaks, looks down upon it. A wide veranda, with all sorts of easy chairs, represents the drawing room, and the dining room is charming—out in the open—by the river, among the pines.

In the studio are found the rare pictures of Yosemite—the wonderful coloring of the great cliffs of the valley representing Jorgensen's study of many years. He knows the valley by heart, and with Mrs. Jorgensen has scaled many trails inaccessible to other people, for the Indian guides have been for years his friends.

Many hundreds of tourists visit Yosemite Valley every year, and they all find their way to this famous studio, carrying wonderful tales to all parts of the world of this artist and his home and studio.

Before the Yosemite railroad was built to El Portal, the Jorgensens spent two winters in Yosemite Valley—snowed safely inland, shut off from all communication with the outside world. And all the years of wonderful study, in the grandest valley in the world, are represented in the Yosemite pictures.

The Jorgensens also have a very picturesque home at Carmel, and the most fascinating pictures that have been painted of the famous old missions are embodied in the work of this rare interpreter of California's wonderful environment.

Mrs. Jorgensen is herself an artist of much ability, and some of her work adorns the walls of the famous studio. She was formerly Angela Ghisardelli, a sister of the late Mrs. Charles Sutton. The house party in Yosemite is being entertained in honor of Mrs. Jorgensen's niece, Miss Carmen Sutton, and among the guests are the latter's friends, Miss Jessie Craig and Miss Letty Barry.

In two weeks the party is to start on a unique camping trip, taking two guides and a number of horses. Yosemite Valley is in the heart of the high Sierras, but this party is planning to go still farther away, and their camping trip will lead them into the wild and magnificent regions of the splendid, far-away Sierras.

A camping trip beyond Yosemite is something very rare indeed; there must be the safest of guides—men whose lives have been passed in the wild Sierras—but the views are superb, and the trip will represent something great and memorable in the lives of Mrs. Jorgensen's young guests. Mr. Jorgensen is at present at Waverly, where he is painting some notable pictures, among them a picture of the great monarch of the Elg Tree grove.

CALIFORNIANS IN LITERATURE

California is really the state in the Union where literary and artistic development is worth watching. Some of the best short-story writers of today came from California, and in the Smart Set for August are represented two well-known writers, Miss Emma Wolf of San Francisco and Mary Glascock.

The John Glascocks lived here so many years, the family homes of both the Walls and Glascocks being here for so long, that one always regards both families as belonging specially to Oakland.

Mrs. Glascock's story is specially Californian—indeed the scene is laid

SOCIETY NEWS of the WEEK

MISS JESSIE PULLEY.

—H. Toss Photo.

MISS MARY PULLEY.

—H. Toss Photo.

SOCIETY

—some parts of it a riot of color—wonderful flowers in great masses blooming in the greatest profusion. Such wonderful coloring has not been seen in any garden since the days when the Dingees planned the beautiful grounds in Hays Canyon.

Mrs. Havers deserves the lovely home, for she is generous of heart, and one of the joys of her life is to share her beautiful home with her friends.

Miss Frances Keleher, a bright Oakland girl, left a few days ago for a three-months' tour of the northwest. She was met in Portland by friends from Chicago and with them went to Seattle to attend the exposition.

MANY ATTRACTED TO MCCRAYS

"McCrays," near Cloverdale, still continues to attract many people, and it is a special center for Oaklanders, some of whom have already spent many summers there. The Coogans usually go to Cloverdale for a part at least of every summer, and in addition, Miss May Coogan is a welcome and popular guest at many week-end parties.

Mrs. Montell Taylor and her little son have been spending the month of July at McCrays, and Mrs. Taylor has been chaperoning the Misses Lilla and Phyllis Lovell, the very pretty and charming young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lovell.

The Charles Lovells were recent guests at Yosemite, and while away they enjoyed a delightful coaching trip to the big trees near Wawona.

PARCELLS IN THEIR NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parcells are now comfortably established in their new home, which is one of the most attractive of the many new Linda Vista homes. It is built of brick and planned along such artistic lines that it represents a really fine architectural effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Parcells are both very fond of their friends, and the latter bid fair to enjoy many happy hours in this most hospitable of new homes.

LAST OF THE HOLIDAY SEASON

We are practically in the last days of the holiday season, and many well-known people are beginning to think of returning home. On August 1 the many public and private schools begin work again, and families must be settled in their homes before that time. So the last of July will bring many people back to the old, round of activities. From the Sierras, from the Santa Cruz mountains, from Southern California, from the picturesque canyons, from the little country towns, from country homes, from bungalows, from many picturesque places, our people are coming home, rested and happy, ready to take up the day's work again in hearty, hopeful fashion.

THE MEDDLER.

Miss Emma Finch was hostess yesterday at an enjoyable card party given at her home in East Oakland in honor of Miss Blanche and Miss Grace Kummer, who are visitors from the East.

Bridge was the pleasing diversion of the afternoon, and the guest list included about twenty-five friends of the honored guests, who had known them some years ago when they resided in Oakland.

LAKESIDE PARTY.

Wright Harby was host at one of the prettiest parties of the week. The affair was given at the home of the Charles Harbys on the shores of Lake Merritt. The grounds presented an attractive appearance, lighted with many colored lanterns and the house was lavishly decorated, and an elaborate supper was served in the spacious dining room.

Among those who enjoyed Mr. Harby's hospitality were Dr. Summer Hardy, Mrs. White, Mrs. Alther, Dennison, Mr. and Mrs. Low, Mr. and Mrs. Eccleston, Miss Hazel Eccleston, Mrs. W. G. Torley, Chester White, Harry Torley, Miss Katharine Rogers of Los Gatos and a score of others.

RETURN TO OAKLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Winlund, who have spent the last nine months in Nevada, returned to Oakland yesterday, and are now at the home of their friends at 451 Thirty-eighth street.

PLEASANT VISIT.

Mrs. Read McCraney, who has been enjoying a visit of two weeks in Oakland, has returned to her home in Sonoma. During her stay in Oakland, Mrs. McCraney was the recipient of many pretty social attentions, being entertained extensively by friends and relatives.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. C. Fashauer entertained on Wednesday evening at a delightful party given in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Minnie Fashauer. Games, music and an elaborate supper were features of this pleasant affair. The house was profusely decorated with carnations and ferns, and the guest list included a few intimate friends of the Fashauer family, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Schertz, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cutting, Ralph, Harold and Earl Cutting, R. Fisher, Miss Haul, Mrs. C. Fisher, Mrs. Fred Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. William Speth, Miss J. Fisher, J. Palmer, Victor Scott, Misses Carolyn and Gladys Newman, Marvin Newman, Mrs. Charles Wirth, Miss Pauline Fashauer, Harold Chase and a few others.

ENJOYABLE PARTY.

Mrs. Leonard Keller of Twenty-third avenue was hostess last evening at an enjoyable party given in honor of Miss Hattie Manning, a pretty Petaluma girl, who is the house guest of Mrs. Keller for a few weeks. Music by a string orchestra was a pleasing feature of the affair, and an elaborate supper was served by the hostess.

Among those present were Miss Helga Nelson, Miss Ruth Wurtlman, Miss Hattie Manning, Miss Annie Keller, Miss Ethelinda Sanderson, Arthur Wilson, Albert Nelson, Carl Nelson, Harry Keller, George Keller, Thomas Covington.

IN SONOMA COUNTY.

Mrs. M. Marcovitch and her daughter,

(Continued on Page 8.)

along "The Claremont Road," and she leads one "down the sharp incline to the creek, where a slow trickle of water washes the feet of laurel trees—the California kind, with pointed, burnished leaves, and strong, spicy smell of bay. The first trifolium tipped cool, wide leaves crowned by pink flowers in the water, and ferns, maidenhair and swaying Woodwardias, allowed all sorts of green things."

The story is a tale of "the simple life," lived out in a California canyon—but the young bride grows tired, and says: "I know the Greeks would have loved electric lights and telephones, and running hot water to wash their dishes with."

But in the end the sweet little matron appreciates the beauty and the restfulness in the heart of the picturesque summer in the country, and the days of peace settle on the little bungalow in the California canyon.

GAY THIS SEASON AT SHELTER ISLAND

Shelter Island, where is the summer home of the F. M. Smiths, is especially gay this summer, and one reads of moonlight sails, water carnivals, dances, golf tournaments, and a long list of attractive dates for a summer program.

The summer colony enjoyed the Yale-Harvard race last week, which is always one of the principal features of the social season.

A fleet sailed from the meetings of the Shelter Island Yacht Club across the sound—among the yachts being that owned by Mr. F. M. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained a party of friends, and with them also was Miss Sperry.

JUSTICE AND MRS. MCKENNA'S VISIT

Justice and Mrs. McKenna, who lived so long in California, are being extensively entertained by their friends, now that they are spending some time on the coast.

The McKennas and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Leach are great friends, having spent pioneer days together in Vallejo, and both men have achieved success in a marked way. In the life work they have chosen.

The McKennas are also friends of Mrs. Sanborn of Fruitvale and her daughters.

Mrs. Eleanor Martin gave an interesting dinner this week in honor of Justice and Mrs. McKenna.

The decorations at social affairs this summer are really beautiful, and one wonders that more is not written about them. It is the season for the splendid gladioli, and for the royal tier lilys, and decorations are massive and mark vivid color schemes.

Mrs. Martin's decorations were the lovely blue Shasta daisies, wonderful in their soft tones, and tall lilies, making the added touch of brilliant color.

Among Mrs. Martin's guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Drum, Senator and Mrs. Russell Lukens, and Mr. and Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt, formerly Kate Clement.

THE DAVISES RETURN FROM HONOLULU

Mr. and Mrs. George Davis and their little daughter returned from a trip to Honolulu this week, having enjoyed a delightful vacation in the Hawaiian Islands.

They are young people who have established a delightful home at Linda Vista, and they have the splendid measurements of life, which make for the true friendships that are among the valued treasures of an ideal home.

Mrs. William R. Davis is spending the month of July in Tulare, where she is the guest of friends, and Mr. Davis is enjoying a vacation outing in the high Sierras.

MANY ATTRACTED TO THE SOUTH

Southern California, with its warm climate, is very attractive in summer, holding a charm for dwellers in the northern regions.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cole Bunnham are spending an enjoyable holiday time in the south, and are now at Santa Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Taylor (Ruth Woodbury) are in southern California, and are the guests of Mr. Taylor's sister, in the latter's home at Santa Ana.

Mr. A. C. Chapman and his little son, Melvin Chapman, Jr., have returned from southern California, having spent some time at Santa Monica. Mr. Chapman went south that his little son might have the usual restful vacation before taking up school work again.

EDOFFS ARE TO ENTERTAIN

The Edoffs are among those who are to entertain this week at the week-end holidays at their home at Brookdale.

Mr. James Edoff is spending the summer in the Santa Cruz mountains and with him are his daughters, Mrs. George Baldwin and Allene Edoff, and his son, Frank Edoff.

Mrs. Baldwin, who has been in town for a few days, is chaperoning some young people to Brookdale, among whom is popular Florence Pardee.

The house party is in the nature of a housewarming, for the Edoffs have just built one of the most charming of the many bungalows of the Brookdale section of the Santa Cruz mountains.

MRS. ISAAC REQUA GOING TO TAHOE

On Friday of this week, Mrs. Isaac Requa is planning to leave for Lake Tahoe, intending to spend some days in that picturesque mountain district.

The Mark Reques have already spent some weeks there, and have greatly enjoyed the many trips around Tahoe.

Mrs. Requa will have with her her charming little grand-daughters, the Misses Amy and Sally Long.

The five little Requa cousins have a way of greatly enjoying life together. Amy Requa is an exceedingly sweet, thoughtful girl, and Lawrence Requa, the only boy of the family, a sturdy, independent lad—a fine fellow, who bids fair to carry on the best traditions of the Requa and Herick families.

SEIBYS TO VISIT AT LAKE ALTA

Mrs. Prentiss Selby and her son, Arthur Selby, are leaving this week for Lake Tahoe, to spend some days before the opening of schools summons the many students back to work.

Mrs. Selby and Arthur Selby are to spend some days at Lake Alta, a charming lake in the mountains near Tahoe. A crowd of congenial Oakland people have been spending part of the summer there, and among them are Mrs. Valentine, Miss Ethel Valentine, Miss Ruth Valentine, Mrs. Palmer, Miss Bessie Palmer, Miss Maud Edith Pope, Mrs. W. C. Palmanteer, Miss Carolyn and Miss Hazel Palmanteer.

PICTURES IN THE MIDDLE TODAY

Miss Mary Pulley and her sister, Miss Jessie Pulley, are two charming southern girls whose home is in Mississippi, but who for the past few weeks have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Shannon.

Miss Ida Nelson, who formerly resided in Oakland, but for several months has called Medford, Ore., her home, spent last week in this city visiting relatives and friends. She was the guest of honor at several small card parties and luncheons.

ADMIRAL MERRILL AT NEWPORT

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Merrill are at Newport this summer, where they have a delightful cottage. They gave one of the large receptions of last week in honor of guests from New York, the reception being largely attended by many army and navy officers and their families. The Merrills spent many months in Berkeley, where they had a large circle of friends.

ENTERTAINING HER EASTERN NIECE

Mrs. Jesse Meehan of East Oakland has as her guest a charming young niece from Chicago, and Mrs. Meehan's younger sister, Miss Pauline Kelly, has been spending some months with her also.

Mrs. Meehan comes from one of the representative families of Chicago, and she always entertains in a most generous and refined fashion the relatives and friends who visit her from the East.

Mrs. Meehan will entertain on Friday afternoon at an informal gathering in honor of her niece, having asked some of her young girl friends to meet the latter, and to enjoy an informal game of bridge.

NOW IN NEW OAKLAND HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heatley, who recently gave up their home in Fruitvale, are now comfortably established in a charming residence on Telegraph avenue. Mrs. Heatley is a most delightful housekeeper and a very cordial hostess.

She has as her guest this week her sister, Mrs. Parker Lyon of Fresno, who with her children is spending some days in Oakland. Fresno may be a very thriving city, but 109 marks a degree of heat from which its inhabitants would most gladly escape.

Parker Lyon is a very prominent man in Fresno, having been mayor of that city, and the Lyons have one of the largest and most attractive homes there.

ENTERTAINING SOME LOS GATOS FRIENDS

Mrs. Mein is entertaining as her guest this week Mrs. Robert Duncan of Los Gatos. For the past two years Mrs. Duncan has made her home in Los Gatos, returning for brief visits to Oakland, and not coming half as often as her friends would like to see her. For she is so very loyal herself, that she has a way of acquiring lasting friendships.

Rev. E. E. Baker and family are occupying Mr. Duncan's residence in Alice street during her stay in Los Gatos.

HEARSTS ON THE MCLOUD RIVER

Wynton, the beautiful and most artistic country home of Mrs. Hearst, has been opened on the McCloud river and Mrs. Hearst and her dear little grandsons will spend some weeks there.

One hears that Wynton represents an unusually fine type of architecture, its real granite walls looming up on the McCloud, giving an impression of much strength, and of much architectural dignity.

It is furnished, too, in a most appropriate fashion, expressing in many ways the mountain atmosphere of its environment. "Wynton" takes its name from a tribe of Indians which formerly lived on the McCloud river, and it is by far one of the most picturesque of the Northern California country homes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst have been abroad in the early part of the summer, spending some time in Paris and London. They have returned to America and are on their way to the coast now, and will be guests of Mrs. Hearst at Wynton. They are most devoted to their charming little children, who are lovely boys—strong, sturdy, bright little fellows—enjoying the happiest of childhood days, under the devoted care of the sweetest grandmother in the world.

The William Hearsts come often to California, not minding in the least the long trip, because the end of the journey brings them to their dear little sons, and to the mother who is the center of so much rare family life and who means so much to them all. There is the most delightful of family reunions at the Hacienda when the William Hearsts come to California, and this year the Hearsts will spend delightful days together at beautiful Wynton on the McCloud river.

DR. ROWE BACK FROM TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Rowe and Dr. and Mrs. Kieaman returned on Thursday from a motor trip through Lake county. They visited the many different springs in Lake county, and enjoyed the picturesque phases of life in an ideal automobile expedition.

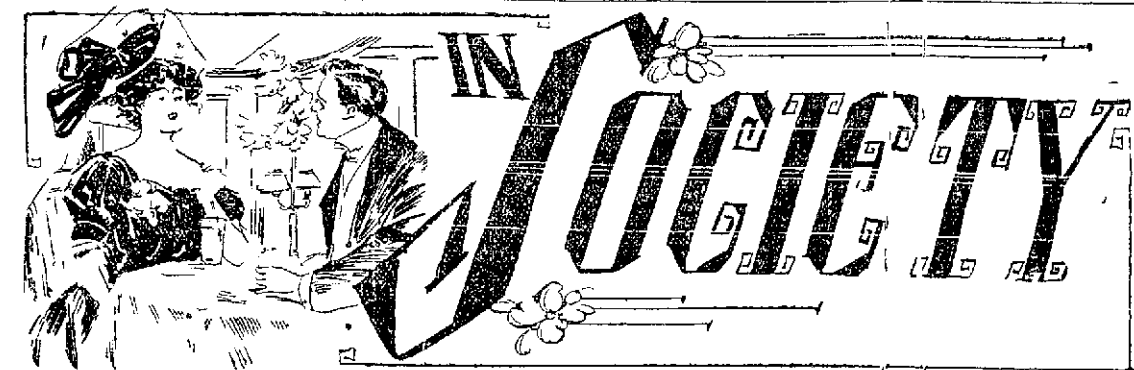

They all return much rested and the men of the party can take up again their professional duties with renewed interest and enthusiasm.

MRS. WICKHAM HAVENS AT LAKE TAHOE

Mrs. Wickham Havens and her children are among those enjoying the late July days at Tahoe. The Havens are very enthusiastic motorists, and all through the summer they make most interesting trips to the mountains and to Monterey.

The Wickham Havens are developing the most beautiful country home in the Piedmont hills—a home in which is one of the most wonderful gardens in the country. It reminds one of the rare old Italian gardens of which one reads. It is a most charming place, full of lovely blooms

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

(Continued From Page 7.)

Miss Ellen March has gone to Lawrenceville, in Sonoma county, where she plans to stay for a few weeks and enjoy a summer outing.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY.
The St. Andrews Society of Oakland is planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening which will be a most enjoyable affair. The tea will be given at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway, and will be open to all ladies. The proceeds of the tea will be for the benefit of the St. Andrews Society.

A KITCHEN SHOWER.
The ladies of the St. Andrews Society gave a kitchen shower for Mrs. J. C. Brown on Tuesday evening. The shower was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON.
A number of Oakland people took part in a bridge luncheon given by the St. Andrews Society on Tuesday. The luncheon was a most enjoyable one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

COMING WEDDING.
A wedding will take place on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The bride is Miss Ellen March and the groom is Mr. J. C. Brown.

IN SONOMA COUNTY.
Miss Ellen March and Mr. J. C. Brown were married on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The wedding was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

Impostor Interferes With The Hunt for a Woman

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—The woman who paid her hotel bill for a room at a hotel in Providence, R. I., and who was the wife of a well-known man, was the subject of a search for a woman who had been missing for some time. The search was made by the police and the woman was found in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Palmer's Sway Threatened

There are signs of a revolt by all who were against the action of the Putter-Palmers in a social circle. It is a concession to Mrs. Palmer to pass more than a week in Chicago. The Putter-Palmers have been in Chicago for some time and have been the subject of much discussion. The Putter-Palmers have been in Chicago for some time and have been the subject of much discussion.

HERE IS A TANGLE

PITTSBURGH.—The superior court says it is illegal for a man to marry in Pennsylvania and the law is in force. The court has ruled that a man cannot marry in Pennsylvania and the law is in force. The court has ruled that a man cannot marry in Pennsylvania and the law is in force.

sonoma county where they are the guests of Mrs. J. C. Brown. The ladies of the St. Andrews Society are planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening which will be a most enjoyable affair.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.
The engagement is announced of Miss Florence Brown and Mr. J. C. Brown. The wedding will take place on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY.
The St. Andrews Society of Oakland is planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening which will be a most enjoyable affair. The tea will be given at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway.

A KITCHEN SHOWER.
The ladies of the St. Andrews Society gave a kitchen shower for Mrs. J. C. Brown on Tuesday evening. The shower was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON.
A number of Oakland people took part in a bridge luncheon given by the St. Andrews Society on Tuesday. The luncheon was a most enjoyable one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

COMING WEDDING.
A wedding will take place on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The bride is Miss Ellen March and the groom is Mr. J. C. Brown.

IN SONOMA COUNTY.
Miss Ellen March and Mr. J. C. Brown were married on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The wedding was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY.
The St. Andrews Society of Oakland is planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening which will be a most enjoyable affair. The tea will be given at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway.

"Soul Mate" F. P. Earl Entertains Emma Goldman at His Home

NEW YORK, July 24.—Emma Goldman, the famous anarchist, was the guest of F. P. Earl at his home in New York. The party was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

Society's Cut-Ups No Longer Hold Sway in Bar Harbor

FAR ALBOR.—There is a considerable movement in this town against the cut-ups of the past. The cut-ups have been a source of much discussion and the town is now in a state of excitement. The cut-ups have been a source of much discussion and the town is now in a state of excitement.

Ugly, She Ends Her Life

ST. JOHNS.—A woman who was described as ugly and who had been the subject of much discussion, ended her life. The woman was found dead in her room and the police are investigating the case.

in this city after spending several weeks in Los Angeles where they were entertained by friends and relatives and visited all points of interest in and about the southern city.

GUEST FROM STOCKTON.
Mrs. George J. McLeod and Miss Florence McLeod are guests in this city at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The ladies are planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening.

AN OUTING.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack (eldest) and their little son will leave tomorrow morning for a month's visit in Modesto.

AFTER NOON AT WHIST.
Miss J. A. Putnam was hostess yesterday at an enjoyable whist party given at her home on Twenty-fifth Avenue in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Putnam of Redlands.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON.
A number of Oakland people took part in a bridge luncheon given by the St. Andrews Society on Tuesday. The luncheon was a most enjoyable one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

COMING WEDDING.
A wedding will take place on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The bride is Miss Ellen March and the groom is Mr. J. C. Brown.

IN SONOMA COUNTY.
Miss Ellen March and Mr. J. C. Brown were married on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway. The wedding was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY.
The St. Andrews Society of Oakland is planning to give a tea on next Tuesday evening which will be a most enjoyable affair. The tea will be given at the home of Mrs. J. C. Brown, 1215 Broadway.

Newport Swells Enjoy Spicy Bit of Gossip Over Rich Woman and Her Latest--A Man Milliner

NEWPORT.—The other day they were discussing a handsome divorcee whose husband had been the subject of much discussion. The divorcee was the subject of much discussion and the town is now in a state of excitement.

Scrubwoman Left $17,000 to Charity

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—The high Maria Heydorn, a scrubwoman, has left a will which bequeathed $17,000 to charity. The will was a most successful one and the guests enjoyed themselves very much.

OLD TRICK DIDN'T FOOL THIS GIRL TWICE

NEW YORK, July 23.—Graduated from business college the confiding stenographer advertised for a situation. Her first answer was from a man who had an office in an imposing new skyscraper. He was a young man, graceful in manner.

One of the New York Chorus Girls That Hammerstein Criticized Replies to Him

She Says the Average Chorus Girl Lasts About 3 and a Half Years in Manhattan

NEW YORK.—The great trouble with New York girls is that they are not as good as they are made out to be. The average chorus girl lasts about 3 and a half years in Manhattan. The chorus girls are the subject of much discussion and the town is now in a state of excitement.

Mrs. Mary Joyce Finds TWO GHOSTS IN HER HOUSE And Uses a Shillelah

NEW YORK, July 23.—As plucky as she is plump and sturdy is Mrs. Mary Joyce, who keeps a lodging house at 264 Third Avenue. She is a daughter of the old school and there is not much on top of earth that she is afraid of.

FAMOUS DIAMOND Now Worn By MRS. WALDORF ASTOR

Of the Sancl diamond that is being worn by Mrs. Waldorf Astor, a gift from her father-in-law, half what has been said is mere myth. It could not have been worn by Charles the Bold and taken from the frozen finger of a corpse.

GALLANT COP IN NEW YORK Makes Broadway Gasp as He Buttons Up Girl

NEW YORK, July 23.—Her brow was like snowdrift, her neck was like the swan. In fact she was so pretty that almost everybody who passed her in Broadway in front of St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon turned to get a second look.

Boston is Now Going to Have a "Six Hundred"

BOSTON.—Smart women are all agog over the promise of the formation of a club patterned after the Colony in New York for which the membership has been limited to six hundred and the list is rapidly filling up so rapidly that a wait is being made.

Princess Is Beheaded by Woman

SLEPT UNTIL NOON; WOULD NOT WORK, SAYS WIFE

Declares Husband Said He Wished Their Child Had Not Been Born

WOMAN FORCED TO SECURE A POSITION

When She Began to Draw Her Salary, States Spouse Asked For It

Maude Bellhapp Wagner, a drug clerk, last evening filed suit in the superior court for a divorce from Andrew Oliver Wagner on the ground of extreme cruelty.

In her complaint Mrs. Wagner characterizes her husband as a lazy good-for-nothing and admits that although they were married at San Rafael on the 18th day of March, 1905, their little daughter, Andrew Marie Wagner, was born to them on the 5th day of the following August. She says that Wagner borrowed money from her mother-in-law which to get married and then for a year afterward insisted upon his wife living either with her or his mother, and absolutely refused to pay for their room and board, although he was traveling on the road for the Southern Pacific Company and earning a good salary all the while.

Two months after their marriage, according to the wife, Wagner asked his wife to lend him the small diamond ring which he had given to her as an engagement ring and then said that she was and spent the money realized finally, when he lost his position with the railway company, although in the best of good health he returned to the home of his mother-in-law and for a period of ten months thereafter remained in bed until 12 o'clock each day, the complaint declares, refusing absolutely to work or to try to get work.

Child Ill Treated, She Says

The complaint also alleges that the day before the child was born Mrs. Wagner asked her husband for a dollar with which to buy some things, the lady needed and he replied that he had no money and that she was mercenary. Mrs. Wagner also charges that ever since the birth of the child her husband has appeared to be jealous of it. Once he said to her: "Did not see why the devil it was born as it was a nuisance to itself and everybody else," and the complaint says that often as the child grew older and went to school Wagner would push it away and swear at it in a rough manner. This treatment of the little girl always caused Mrs. Wagner grievous mental anguish and suffering and upset her, she says, so much so that on one occasion she said to Wagner: "If you'll only treat our baby as well as you do your dog, I'll be satisfied."

Refused Her Money

With reference to Wagner's alleged failure to provide for his family the wife says that on nearly every occasion when she asked him for money he refused it to her, saying that she was mercenary for asking for it. She charges that with the exception of one year during their marriage, she and her child have been solely dependent on the charity of her mother, sister and friends. On one occasion, when the baby was four months old, Mrs. Wagner, through sheer desperation and although in a poor state of health, walked three miles looking for employment, and finally secured a position addressing envelopes for a few weeks, so badly were she and the child in need of clothes. For about eighteen months Wagner earned a good salary and although his wife had no clothes except those which she secured as a refugee of the big fire, Wagner refused to allow her more than $15 a month, which the wife had to pay for room and board. All the time Wagner was well dressed and spent money freely on himself and his own amusements, the wife alleges.

Mrs. Wagner makes many other allegations in connection with Wagner's alleged ill-treatment of her and the child. She says that when she was driven out of her flat in San Francisco, about a year ago, because Wagner had failed to pay the rent, the latter put her and the child on a ferry steamer and sent them to Oakland with only fifty cents. She had to go to the home of her aunt on Jackson street and beg her to take them in. The complaint also alleges that since Mrs. Wagner has been employed by a local drug company, Wagner has frequently worried her to give him money, which she has been forced to do to prevent a scandal, and that one day because she stopped to speak to a gentleman friend on Broadway near Thirteenth street, he slapped her face before all the people passing by on the sidewalk. Wagner has a mean and jealous disposition and a very violent temper, the wife charges. He is also accused of using vile language toward his wife, of striking and trying to choke her, and of holding a revolver at her head and threatening to kill her.

Wagner is at present employed in the Oakland office of a San Francisco newspaper.

Charles Q. Rideout Nominated For Postmaster of San Leandro

CHARLES Q. RIDEOUT, Who Has Been Appointed Postmaster of San Leandro by President Taft.

The following dispatch from Washington brings the news of the appointment of Charles Q. Rideout, one of San Leandro's representative citizens to the position of postmaster of San Leandro. "President Taft yesterday sent to the Senate the nomination as postmaster of San Leandro, California, the name of Charles Rideout."

Today Rideout is receiving the congratulations of a host of friends upon his good fortune. Rideout has resided in the city of cherries for more than a score of years, and has always been identified in movements of civic activity. A live member of the board of town trustees, of which he has been a member for several years, he has in the past acted in the capacity of president. He is also affiliated with the board of trade as an active exponent of the city's welfare and progress. He has been a delegate on several occasions to congressional conventions.

Rideout was chairman of the general committee of the San Leandro cherry carnival which was the beginning of a new era of activity in the city's growth, and to his personal labors is attributed in a great measure the tremendous success of the festival.

Rideout is prominently connected with the Best Manufacturing Company of San Leandro. He is 50 years of age and is a man of family.

GUNNINGHAM TO PLEAD INSANITY

Asks For Two Physicians to Examine Him as to Mental Condition

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Although James Edward Cunningham, self-confessed slayer of Caroline Brasch, the young bookkeeper for Gray Brothers, appeared at first to be entirely willing to be tried by a jury, he now seems to be sidestepping the issue. The charge of murder does not appeal to him, and his insanity plea is being seized at and grasped for as a life-saver.

Nevertheless, Cunningham is not willing to be taken to the county jail to be examined as to his sanity, nor yet does he want to go before the jury to be examined. He desires two physicians to examine him in the city prison, and Attorney E. E. Kirk made application for a continuance of his case until July 25, before Judge Dwyer this morning. In order that that examination might be made, the request was granted and it is probable that when the matter comes to trial in the police court a formal defense will be put up.

Notwithstanding Cunningham is not willing to be taken to the county jail to be examined as to his sanity, nor yet does he want to go before the jury to be examined. He desires two physicians to examine him in the city prison, and Attorney E. E. Kirk made application for a continuance of his case until July 25, before Judge Dwyer this morning. In order that that examination might be made, the request was granted and it is probable that when the matter comes to trial in the police court a formal defense will be put up.

They quickly dressed and made their way to the establishment, a thorough search failing to locate any one inside of the saloon, although the light could be plainly seen when the search party was within a half block of the place. As they approached nearer, however, the light disappeared and the building was found to be empty.

To satisfy their curiosity, the members of the search party lay in wait near the house last night for the individual who had taken up his abode in the deserted saloon. The light appeared, but was extinguished as the party neared the door. No one was found in the saloon. The mystery is one that can not be explained, as it does not seem possible that the intruder could know of the quiet approach of the searchers, who had kept their midnight visit a strict secret.

Ziegler has declared his intention of vacating his residence if the ghost continues to haunt the deserted building next his residence. It has been suggested that the ghost is the spirit of John Barleycorn.

DISGRACE MADE HIM ILL, HE SAYS

Edmund Burke Declares Being Handcuffed to Slayer Was Too Much

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Edmund Burke, who was convicted of practicing law without a license in the police court and accused of various other offenses, claims to have been rendered ill through worrying over the fact that he was handcuffed to James Edward Cunningham, murderer of Caroline Brasch.

Burke's appeal from the decision of the lower court was on the calendar to be heard before Judge Connelley this morning, and he counsel made a motion for his release on habeas corpus on the grounds of illness. Burke speaking for himself, maintained that he was suffering from the ill effects of continued confinement and claimed that he had been kept awake worrying over the justification of being forced to walk among a chain of prisoners handcuffed to Cunningham. The hearing was put over until Tuesday.

Notwithstanding Cunningham is not willing to be taken to the county jail to be examined as to his sanity, nor yet does he want to go before the jury to be examined. He desires two physicians to examine him in the city prison, and Attorney E. E. Kirk made application for a continuance of his case until July 25, before Judge Dwyer this morning. In order that that examination might be made, the request was granted and it is probable that when the matter comes to trial in the police court a formal defense will be put up.

They quickly dressed and made their way to the establishment, a thorough search failing to locate any one inside of the saloon, although the light could be plainly seen when the search party was within a half block of the place. As they approached nearer, however, the light disappeared and the building was found to be empty.

To satisfy their curiosity, the members of the search party lay in wait near the house last night for the individual who had taken up his abode in the deserted saloon. The light appeared, but was extinguished as the party neared the door. No one was found in the saloon. The mystery is one that can not be explained, as it does not seem possible that the intruder could know of the quiet approach of the searchers, who had kept their midnight visit a strict secret.

Ziegler has declared his intention of vacating his residence if the ghost continues to haunt the deserted building next his residence. It has been suggested that the ghost is the spirit of John Barleycorn.

PREMIER BRIAND FORMS HIS CABINET

General Brun and Admiral de la Payrere Accept Portfolios

PARIS PRESS SKEPTICAL REGARDING PERMANENCY

Money Interests Gratified at Disappearance of M. Cailiaux From Ministry

PARIS, July 24.—M. Briand today definitely succeeded in forming a new cabinet to succeed the recently resigned Clemenceau ministry, his offer to General Brun and Admiral de la Payrere to take the portfolios of minister of war and minister of marine, respectively, having been accepted. The new cabinet is made up as follows:

Premier and Minister of Interior and Public Worship—Aristide Briand. Minister of War—General Brun. Minister of Marine—Admiral de la Payrere. Foreign Affairs—M. Pichon. Finance—Georges Cochery. Education—M. Doumergue. Public Works, Posts and Telegraphs—M. Millerand. Commerce—Jean Dupuy. Agriculture—M. Riu. Colonies—M. Trouillot. Labor—M. Viviani.

The Paris press seems skeptical regarding the duration of the new cabinet, but the general impression is favorable.

Money Interests Pleased

The moneyed interests are specially gratified at the disappearance of M. Cailiaux from the finance ministry. The Socialists manifest consternation at the fact that the portfolios of war and marine go to professionals, but the course of Briand in placing the national defense in the hands of a general and an admiral is considered the best guarantee that the abuse of politics, which has caused so much trouble in the army and navy, will be eliminated. Admiral de la Payrere has been maritime prefect at Brest and is considered an able administrator. The forecast of the ministerial declaration regarding the holding of a coalition of capital and labor strikes a welcome note in the newspapers, which are inclined to give the ideas disseminated by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who twice served as Minister of Labor in Viviani's cabinet, a large share of credit for the inauguration of this policy.

Russian Emissaries Denounced in France

PARIS, July 24.—Jean Juarez, Socialist leader in the Chamber of Deputies, today publicly warned the French government that he had reason to believe Dr. Dubrovitch, president of the League of Russian People, had sent emissaries to Paris for the purpose of murdering M. Bourgeois, an exiled Russian revolutionary.

Bourgeois recently exposed General Harting, chief of the Russian political police, in Paris, accusing him of being the organizer of the dynamite plot against Emperor Alexander III. The charges were confirmed by the French government and the expose came just in time to prevent General Harting's promotion to the league of honor.

Naval Officer Killed By Kite's Lightning

CHRISTIANA, Norway, July 24.—Captain Engestad, an officer of high scientific attainments, was killed by a lightning bolt while on a fishing expedition on the coast of Arhusen polar expedition.

Sultan of Morocco Gaining Strength

TANGHER, Morocco, July 24.—News today from Fez says Sultan Mulai Hadid's situation is better. Previous reports said Mulai Hadid was manifestly helpless and a prisoner in the capital and that Mulai El Kbir, brother of the Sultan, who had been proclaimed at Zenur, was advancing at the head of a large force at Mequinez.

Visitors are returning to their allegiance and some of the rebel tribes are disposed to ask for pardon.

ARRESTED WHILE IN ACT OF THRASHING HIS WIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—William Grant, a slayer, was taken into custody by Police Officer Brown and Richard Morris after he had administered a severe beating to his wife on the corner of Pacific and Kearny streets. The woman's cries had attracted the officers to the scene, and they were just about to arrest Grant as he was endeavoring to escape. The arrest came through jealousy on the part of the husband.

Every one would be benefited by taking Foley's Kidney-Liver-Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and regulates the bowels, and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Kidney-Liver-Laxative today? For sale at Wagner's Drug Store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.

Carroll Athletic Club Grounds Opened With Picturesque Banquet

Members of the Portola Club who assisted in the banquet given recently by that society.

MISS STELLA LAIRD. MISS MINNIE THURLOW.

—Bell-Oudry Photo.

The Carroll Athletic Club grounds, on East Twenty-seventh street and Fruitvale avenue, were auspiciously opened last Monday night with a banquet given in honor of the event by the Portola Club of Fruitvale. Merriment prevailed throughout the dinner, which was attended by the members of the society and a number of invited guests. Impromptu musical numbers were rendered and a delightful evening was enjoyed.

The scene on the grounds resembled a fairland. Hundreds of Japanese lanterns beneath the tall redwood trees made a most picturesque scenic effect.

Among those who joined in the festivities were Miss Stella Laird, Miss Lila Taylor, Miss Minnie Thurlow, Miss Hazel Parson, Miss J. Walker, Miss Blanche Payne, Miss J. Engler, Miss Grace Barton, Miss Josephine Murray, Miss Pearl Bennett, Miss Jennie Grant, Miss Gladys Deggon, Miss Irene Manley, Miss Gladys Child, Miss Pauline Bakamp and Miss Tilly Anderson.

Saves 4 Children But Fifth Drowns

SALT LAKE, July 24.—After his father had saved four other children and was struggling desperately to save him, Thomas, the 4-year-old son of E. W. Fisher, a physician of this city, was carried in a laminae canoe, near here, yesterday afternoon.

One by one the father had rescued his children after a camping wagon, in which they were riding, was overturned by the sudden drenching. Seeing the two boys and two girls safely on shore, he plunged back into the stream in search of Thomas. But the lad was nowhere to be seen and a half hour later his body was found entangled in a patch of weeds and brush overhanging the bank.

YOUNG WOMAN HELD ON CHARGE OF THEFT

Florence Edwards, a fascinating young woman, who was arrested in a resort at 610 Commercial street, San Francisco, yesterday on a charge of theft, was arraigned before Police Judge Samuels this morning.

The complaint against the Edwards girl is preferred by Mrs. Mollie Erickson, proprietor of a lodging house at the corner of Eighth and Washington street, who asserts that the girl occupied a room next to her for several weeks. On April 10, Mrs. Erickson maintains, Miss Edwards entered her room, taking therefrom a number of valuable things and undervalued at $100.

The girl's preliminary examination has been set for August 13 to give her time to get an attorney.

HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL WITH ROPE OF CLOTHING

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—Alfred Fortman, who claimed he was a member of a "can I not say a fine" family in Portland, Ore., committed suicide early today in the county prison, where he had been confined, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. He tore his clothing in strips and hanged himself to a cell.

Fortman, who was about 45 years old, is said to have been wanted in New York to answer charges of having obtained money under false pretenses.

TAPPAN HANDS OUT BRAND OF CYCLONE JUSTICE THAT MAKES EVIL DOERS WHINE

Cyclone justice was dealt out by Judge Tappan of Alameda in Department One of the police court this morning, his minimum sentence being six months in the city prison, while in one case an expressed desire to secure the prisoner to jail for a period of fifty years.

William Brown, an Englishman, sent to this country by his family to get rid of him, was the first to sample the brand of justice dealt out by Judge Tappan. He pleaded guilty to a technical battery on Thomas Salverson, a 14-year-old boy. He was immediately sentenced to six months in the city prison.

"What manner of brute are you, anyhow?" asked the court. "I am sorry that I can't send you to jail for fifty years."

"Can I not say a fine?" queried the prisoner. "If you had $25,000, you could not pay a cent. Call the next case."

The next case was that of Cora Book, a single woman, whose actions have brought her before the police court many times. She pleaded guilty to vagrancy.

"Six months in the city prison," was the sentence of the court. Charles Zubin, a "pop" head, was the next. He first pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy, then changed his plea to guilty.

HORRIBLE IS REVENGE OF RELEASED SERVANT

Discharged From Service In Family, She Commits Brutal Crime

GIRL SLAIN WHILE AT HER BREAKFAST

Lured From Table to Meet an Awful Death at Woman's Hands

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—Maddened by a desire of revenge because of her dismissal from the household where she has served all her life, Ivana Inteski, a woman housekeeper, slew the Princess Alexandra Mestchersky, entirely decapitating her head with an ax.

According to gruesome details of the tragedy which have reached here, the infuriated servant entered the vast estate through a rear entrance this morning. Reaching the house, she found the family at breakfast.

Feigning tears, she gained entrance to the castle and entering the dining room, implored an audience with the 14-year-old princess. The woman stepped back into the hall and unsuspiciously the girl arose from the table to grant the woman's request.

Process is Beheaded

As she reached the door the servant, with a ghastly shriek of rage, swung an axe which she had concealed under her long cloak, above her head, and struck a terrible blow, severing the girl's head.

The little princess fell prostrate, her blood gushing forth in a sickening pool on the floor. The head, dripping with gore, rolled to the very feet of her father, Prince Mestchersky, who fainted away, and is now being held in close confinement in the fear that his mind has been completely shattered by the tragedy.

Lives on Big Estates

The little Princess Alexandra, though but a child, has presided as chateau of the castle since her mother's death, three years ago. She has lived alone on the vast estates with her brother and father.

A few days ago she was forced to discharge the Inteski woman because of continued drunkenness and the old servant, vowing revenge, left the estates yesterday.

Almost immediately following the revolting crime the woman was placed under arrest by the police in the house and the police, arriving a few hours later, had difficulty in quelling a crowd of rioters, who demanded a lynching.

TO PUT OPPOSITION SHIPS ON VALLEJO RUN

VALLEJO, July 24.—The Monticello Steamship Company, which has enjoyed a monopoly of the bay transportation business between this city and San Francisco for the last several years and which has built up a million dollar corporation from one small boat, is to have determined opposition.

Captain Ben Waters of Stockton has organized a company of San Francisco and Seattle capitalists, who have secured a couple of fast boats and a sound which will be brought down the coast to compete with the local corporation.

The new line will apply to the board of city trustees at the next meeting of that body for permission to land at Virginia street wharf here. Waters at present operates the steam bark H. E. Wright on the San Joaquin river.

HERO SAVES VIRGINIA HARNED IN RUNAWAY

ATHOL, Mass., July 24.—Virginia Harned, wife of Dr. W. H. Harned, lost control of a spirited horse she was driving yesterday morning, and the animal dashed down Main street, with the actress vainly trying to check its flight.

Harry E. Ryan, after several people had failed to stop the horse, made a flying leap for the bridge and the animal dashed down Main street, with the actress vainly trying to check its flight.

Miss Harned was white with fear, but she was able to thank Ryan again and again for his bravery. He gave him her card and promised that he would hear from her again.

SUIT FILED, DIVORCE GRANTED IN 10 MINUTES

SALINAS, July 24.—What is believed to be the record for a quick divorce in California was made yesterday in the Superior Court here, when Elizabeth W. Zabala was granted an interlocutory decree from Albert S. Zabala, son of a wealthy capitalist.

The complaint was filed, summons issued and served, cause tried and judgment rendered within ten minutes. The couple were married in San Jose four years ago, but separated within a month and have since lived apart.

WILL BEAUTIFY STREETS OF BERKELEY

House Cleaning Campaign
Will Be Instituted All Over the City

WIRES WILL ALL HAVE TO GO UNDERGROUND

Southern Pacific and Key
Route to Be Asked to Aid
Scheme of Reforms

BERKELEY, July 24.—The campaign for the beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Wires Underground

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

To Beautify Streets

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

McClure to Aid

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

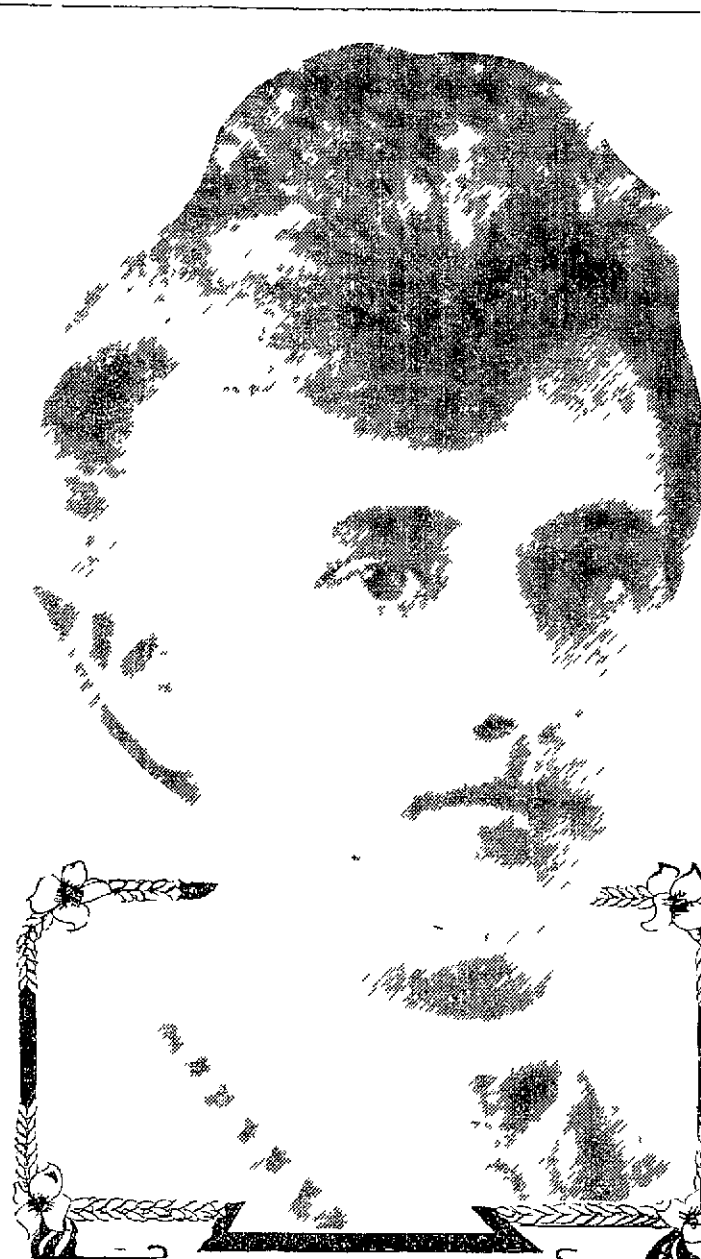

Oakland Couple's Are

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Fair Musician Returns After Vacation in San Mateo Hills

MISS MAE E. MCCOOKELL, Young Musician, Who Has Just Returned from Vacation

BERKELEY, July 24.—Miss Mae E. McCookell, daughter of Mrs. T. A. McCookell, returned yesterday from a two weeks' vacation in the San Mateo Hills. She is a young musician and has been studying music during her vacation.

Police Inspector Sues Sweetheart

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

$150,000 Alleged to Have

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Vallejo Treasury

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Wife Prostrated by

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

The beautification of the city through the removal of all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one. The city council has adopted a plan to remove all unsightly structures and the improvement of the streets is a definite one.

Woman Disrobes on

ARMES TO SHOW LANTERN SLIDES

Rare Collection to Be Displayed by Savant in Shakespearian Lecture

BERKELEY, July 24.—One of the finest collections of Shakespearean lantern slides in the United States will be shown by Professor William P. Armes of the University of California in his lecture on "The English of Shakespeare" at the Lyceum of the University of California on Monday evening.

The lecture will be given at the Lyceum of the University of California on Monday evening. It will be a rare collection of Shakespearean lantern slides.

Murderer's Partner

Pleads Bankruptcy

NEW YORK, July 24.—The tragic death of Miss Edith Woodruff and of Robert D. Garrison, the New York City editor, last month were recalled here today by the filing of a petition in bankruptcy by John J. Garrison, brother of the late Robert D. Garrison.

Aged Man Killed

By Falling Wall

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—John Han, an aged man, was killed today by a falling wall at the corner of Fifth and Jackson streets.

Woman Loses Jewels:

ARE FOUND THEN STOLEN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The police are having a somewhat strenuous time endeavoring to locate several diamonds and rubies and pieces of jewelry belonging to Mrs. Mary Connolly of 2833 Bryant street.

San Francisco Woman Brings

Action Against Jeweler

A. J. Eaton

San Francisco, July 24.—A woman brought today a suit in the superior court against A. J. Eaton, a jeweler, for the recovery of $1500.

Takes Friends Clothes;

FLEES TO HIS AFFINITY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Peter Dal, 24, of 1934 Stockton street, informed the police today that he had stolen the clothing of his friends and fled to his affinity.

Safe Robbed of $80;

NIGHTWATCHMAN GONE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The safe in the office of E. Valtz, a soda water manufacturer, was opened last night by some one who worked the combination and escaped with $80.

3000 MINERS OUT ON

STRIKES AND LOCKOUTS

DENVER, July 24.—The Western Federation of Miners in executive session today considered the strikes and lockouts that are on throughout the country.

WILSON TRIED CONTINUED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Superior Judge Dunne this morning continued the trial of the motion picture "Wilson" for three weeks.

CITIZENS' BANK TO BE NATIONAL

Alameda Institution Contemplates Incorporation of Savings Department

ALAMEDA, July 24.—S. E. Biddle, vice president of the Citizens' Bank of Alameda, announced today that the institution was seriously considering the change to a national bank and for the purpose of increasing its capital in addition to the national institution.

The change to a national bank will be made in the near future. The bank has a capital of $100,000 and is in a better financial condition at the present time than ever before.

Court Denounces

CRUEL HUSBAND

Woman Forced to Sign Statement at Pistol Point That She Was Untrue

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—While her husband, George, Dolabella, a brother of the late John Dolabella, was in the hospital, she was forced to sign a statement at pistol point that she was untrue.

Boys Caught Gambling

ARE OUT ON PROBATION

JAMES CRAWFORD, Harry Herschman and John Smith, three boys arrested by the police for gambling, are out on probation.

Miss Madge Hansen

IS GIVEN A SURPRISE

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—About thirty friends of Miss Madge Hansen tendered her a surprise party at her home on Fourth street last night.

Gertrude Hoffman Is

PAROLED BY JUSTICE

NEW YORK, July 24.—Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, was arraigned in police court today and paroled until next Tuesday when the court will take up the question whether or not her performance at a local theater is offensive to public decency.

Eureka Photograjher

WINS NATIONAL TROPHY

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 24.—The convention of the Photographers' Association of America today awarded the prize for the best invention to J. A. Westman of Eureka, California.

Gertrude Hoffman Is

PAROLED BY JUSTICE

NEW YORK, July 24.—Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, was arraigned in police court today and paroled until next Tuesday when the court will take up the question whether or not her performance at a local theater is offensive to public decency.

Gertrude Hoffman Is

PAROLED BY JUSTICE

NEW YORK, July 24.—Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, was arraigned in police court today and paroled until next Tuesday when the court will take up the question whether or not her performance at a local theater is offensive to public decency.

Gertrude Hoffman Is

PAROLED BY JUSTICE

NEW YORK, July 24.—Gertrude Hoffman, the dancer, was arraigned in police court today and paroled until next Tuesday when the court will take up the question whether or not her performance at a local theater is offensive to public decency.

INVITE TAFT TO VISIT BERKELEY

Mayor and City Council Ask
President to Stop in
College City

BERKELEY, July 24.—The President Taft does not come to Berkeley with a commission west it will not be the fault of Mayor Hodgehead and the new City Council. President Taft was in Berkeley four years ago on his way to the Philippines.

The Mayor and City Council are asking the President to stop in Berkeley on his way to the Philippines. They believe it would be a great honor for the city.

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

President to Stop in

College City

Mayor and City Council Ask

WHITE FLIES ARE IN PASO ROBLES

University Scientists Are Now
Studying Habits of Pest With
View to Extermination

BERKELEY, July 24.—Professor C. W. Woodworth of the entomological department of the State University reports that the white fly pest has been found in the Salinas valley. The fly is a pest of the orange groves of Oroville and Marysville last year is unknown as the entomologists are now studying the habits of the fly found in large numbers in the south to determine this pest.

Professor Woodworth reported that the white fly in Oroville was not present in such large quantities as last year and the losses there would not be as great.

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

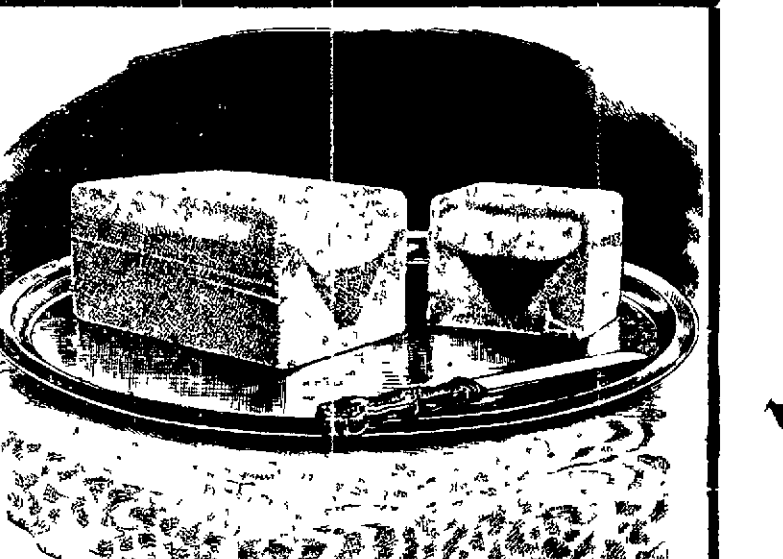

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

Studying Habits of Pest With

View to Extermination

University Scientists Are Now

A frozen dessert made entirely of fresh fruits

ENOUGH FOR 8 PEOPLE FOR FIFTY CENTS

Every layer will be made of fresh fruit. This is probably the only time of year when the can get apricots, fresh pineapples and fresh strawberries at the same time.

It will be a most delicious brick, exceedingly refreshing and particularly fine.

The three layers will be as follows:
Pineapple Ice Cream
Apricot Water Ice
Strawberry Ice Cream

We will use the juice of fresh Hawaiian pineapples, the finest of Moorpark apricots and selected Watsonville strawberries mixed with heavy cream of the finest quality.

All fruits are carefully cleaned and the juice squeezed out by special machinery.

It will be one of the finest bricks made this year so be sure not to miss it.

If you call tomorrow and carry it home 50c QUART BRICK
If we deliver it packed in ice 80c QUART BRICK
(Each brick contains enough for 8 or 9 people)

Special Candy Flies are ripe and the fresh crop is in tonight and tomorrow. Be sure to get some because they are very very fine. Will be made fresh very few hours.
PRICE PER POUND 50c

LEHNHARDT'S CANDIES After Theater Specialies
Broadway, Bet. 13th and 14th, Oakland
PHONES—OAKLAND 497—HOME PHONE 4 3497

GOSSIP FROM THE SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

THE MUTE
INGLORIOUS POET

When Ambassador Jusserand, himself a literary genius of high order, came to town some weeks ago, he was most agreeably astonished to find that the Mayor of this democratic metropolis was a poet. The circumstance was to him proof of the culture of the community. Still more agreeably astonished was he to learn that the poet's predecessor was a musician. "I have discovered an Athens on the western verge," he exclaimed, and nobody disillusioned him with the information that at the end of his term the musician's middle box was full of gold dust and covered with cobwebs and that the poet's lyre has grown almost mute. It is greatly to our credit that with a poet as Mayor we have indulged him rather in the practice of politics than in the singing of songs. It is to our discredit that we have encouraged a man of Mayor Taylor's spiritual nature, a man of his serene purposes, to partake of the passions and perturbations of this turbulent period. But the Portola festival is coming with the golden opportunity to make amends. As a mayor poet has been a failure but as a poet the Mayor may do us proud—if we permit.—Town Talk.

TAWNEY'S QUESTIONS ABOUT HENEY

It is well that the Appropriations Committee at Washington should place the scale of Mr. Henev's remuneration for services not received upon permanent record. The fact may correct certain Eastern impressions sedulously fostered by pampering college professors with feminine minds and virilic tongues to the effect that Mr. Henev's only pay is a good conscience and an interior sense of merit. Here are the words of Mr. Tawney, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, in reply to the question, "How much did Henev receive during the year 1907?" "He received $25,000," said Mr. Tawney, "and performed no service for the government whatever during that year." Subsequently Mr. Tawney said: "As a matter of fact, Mr. Henev has not performed any active service for the last three years. He was appointed November 7, 1903, and his active service continued for about three years, and for which he received in all $69,000." That such large sums should be disbursed from the treasury without any return in the way of service seems to suggest a cause for the national debt of which we have lately heard so much. That, however, is another question. The point of immediate interest to San Francisco is the exposure of a hypocritical pretension, and this has now been effectually done.—The Argonaut.

SINGER
LOSES NOSE

Arcangel, the Baritone at the Princess Theater, lost his nose during the performance of the "L'Amico Fritz" on Saturday afternoon, and as a consequence some of the singers temporarily lost their heads. It was a beautiful nose, one of those Arcangel wore—massive, luminous, protuberant, a very Cyrano of a protuberant. Unfortunately it was not securely fastened on. During an impassioned passage of song, which called for considerable facial contortion, off came the nose. Arcangel made a grab and caught the trunk member, and a laugh went up from the audience. The singer turned up his back and attempted to fasten the counterfeit organ in place, but when he turned and his auditors saw that he had failed they burst into a shout of laughter. Burtoski, who was on the stage with him, attempted to sing, but when he choked with mirth, he turned to the audience and threw her hands into the air as a signal that the episode had been too much for her. Decorum restored, Burtoski finished her song and left the stage as Colombini came rushing dramatically on, and striding up to Arcangel began to sing. Then the absence of the nose became apparent to him. A grin overspread his face, and in an instant the singers and the audience had joined in laughter that could not be suppressed for several minutes. Arcangel, divining that a reappearance with the nose in place would mean more fun, wisely refrained from wearing it during the remainder of the performance.—Town Talk.

AMERICANS AT
EDWARD'S COURT

King Edward's very pronounced liking for the society of rich American women is not shared by either the Prince or Princess of Wales, nor does Princess Henry of Battenberg number any Americans among her intimate friends. Princess Christian and the Duke of Connaught, however, make up the royal deficit and cannot see too many Americans. Years ago, when Mrs. Bonny first established herself in London and was experiencing an uphill fight socially, Princess Christian took a great liking to the generous American. Today they are so intimate that they call each other in private by their first names. Princess Christian is acquainted with all the prominent Americans in town. One of her favorites is Lady Chylesmore, who gave a concert in honor of Princess Christian's daughter, the Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein.—The Wasp.

JOHNSON AND HIS DUPES

The matrimonial adventures of Christian Johnson have landed him in the limelight, but the foolish women who were so ready to be duped are still at large and ready to become the prey of the next plausible scoundrel who will feed their vanity. As usual after every exposure of this kind the cry is raised "there ought to be a law," but the only law which would prove effective would be one empowering the fool killer to do summary execution. There is no occasion to pity the dupes of a wholesale matrimonial scoundrel, for the women whom he victimizes meet him more than half way. They are lured not by love but by lust, and they care for nothing but the material gain they expect to enjoy. If it should so turn out that the man in the case really did possess wealth they would have no hesitation about accepting the profits of the transaction. The probabilities are that just as soon as he could induce him to place an appreciable fortune in their hands they would sue for divorce with liberal costs and alimony, and they should be just as ready to pocket the losses. No one need commiserate the misfortunes of the victims of any sort of green goods or gold brick swindle, for most of these transactions are so transparently fraudulent that only rogues and rascals can be attracted by them. They are ready enough to undertake to swindle others, and if, by any unforeseen accident they should happen to find themselves on the winning side they would have no compunctions as to honesty. It is only a case of the bitter bitten. Common sense ought to inform any one fit to be at large that men and women who resort to matrimonial agencies must be handicapped by insuperable obstacles or else bent on fraud. People who juggle with edged weapons should expect cut fingers.—Town Talk.

REID'S EXPENSES
$150,000 YEARLY

Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador to England, is living at Dorchester House, Park Lane, London, in a style which is only befitting to the American Ambassador to the court of St. James, but which is costing him $150,000 a year, at least, toward which a salary of $17,500 does not help much. Having a well-appointed ambassadorial home placed at his disposal would bring the cost of holding the office down to within reasonable limits. It is thought in London that the cost of some of the houses might prove a most excellent investment, as it would enable men of such intellectual dignity as Dr. Eliot to hold office without facing financial ruin, and the country would be the richer many times over for having such representatives at all. Hilbert Reid has held a position alone in the reputation that he enjoyed in London for lavishness of entertainment. Now, though, he has a rival in the new Japanese Ambassador, Kato, also a millionaire publisher, whose initial reception startled even blase London with its lavishness of display. For one dinner Mr. Kato took an entire floor at the famous Claridge Hotel.—The Wasp.

THE PASSION FOR DISPLAY

Mrs. Frank Carolan is to build a new home at Burlingame, one of mammoth proportions, something grand, gorgeous and peculiar. It is to be a castle without a moat, a drawbridge or donjon tower, but with expensive filigree, and in the matter of cost it is to surpass anything west of Chicago, the sweet village of the plains where the daughter of the house of Pullman holds. According to the veracious reporters of the daily press who are in close touch with our provincial aristocracy, Mrs. Carolan is animated by a very worthy ambition—that of owning the most imposing and costly home on the peninsula. In this the reporters are not incredible. Mrs. Carolan has a taste for editions de luxe and all that sort of thing, and therefore it is quite conceivable that to her the ideal home, sweet home, is one of dazzling splendor with lots of elbow room. But when the reporters tell us that the Crocker home at Burlingame was conceived in a spirit of rivalry, and that it was designed to surpass in pretentiousness the homes of Mr. Crocker's neighbors I know that they are indulging in flippancy and fibbing. It is evident they don't know the Crockers. The Crockers differ somewhat in taste and inclination from the ostentatious representatives of the Burlingame set. Mrs. Crocker is a woman of education. The higher aims of existence, not the vulgar, engross her attention.—Town Talk.

KIRKPATRICK - MacDONALD ENGAGEMENT

No robust deal has as yet been made to the current rumor that the charming young daughter of Colonel and Mrs. John C. Kirkpatrick is engaged to Allen MacDonald, and that formal announcement of the engagement will be made at a large reception to be given at the Fairmont in August. Miss Suzanne Kirkpatrick was one of last season's debutantes, making her formal society courtesy in duet with her cousin, Miss Allen. The Kirkpatrick family is one of the richest and most prominent in California. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who was one of four lovely sisters, was a Miss Davis of San Jose. One of her sisters married James Allen of this city, one became the wife of Mr. Hildreth of San Jose, and the other wedded Mr. McCoy of Oakland. The Davis family came to California from Ohio, where one of their forebears, Smiley Sharon, of Puritan stock, settled in the early days in the Buckeye State. The late Senator William Sharon was a grandniece of Mrs. Kirkpatrick. The Kirkpatrick lived in Virginia for some years, and their son William received his early education there. Miss Suzanne is one of the prettiest and most lovable of the original Junior Dancing Club, which three seasons ago contained in its membership those young girls of the exclusive set who have since entered the larger circles of smartdom. Colonel Kirkpatrick is one of the most prominent hotel managers of the West, a man of affairs, of remarkable executive ability and highly popular. He was Harbor Commissioner under Governor Pardee, and has more than once been mentioned as an ideal candidate for Governor.—The Wasp.

A ROOSEVELTIAN
SENORA

A brother of that most fascinating of matrons, Mrs. Walter MacGavin, makes his home in Manila, where he married a charming senora belonging to one of the oldest Spanish families in the islands. That was quite a while ago, and nine hopefuls have come to bless the hearthstone of the favored pair. The mother of the nine is fond of comparing herself with American women, and among them with Mrs. Walter MacGavin, always ending her observations with the remark: "Yes, you have a beautiful country and beautiful ways, and I am not an American, of course, but I think that you are more than on my dear sister-in-law." And the nine are proudly displayed in comparison with the only two of the Walter MacGavins. Mrs. Walter is devoted to her two, and sees no reason to lament the fact that there are no more. She was telling the other day of her sister-in-law's attitude. "And to think," she finished, in her inimitable way, "to think that the smile of the President would make up for nine children!"—Town Talk.

LONG DRAWN OUT TRIAL

It is evident that we are to be treated to the long-drawn-out scandal of a second Calhoun trial. The first day's proceedings included the mental vivisection of twenty talsmen, but none of them was convicted, and the jury box remains empty. Judge Lawlor, having given unbiased consideration to the question of his own fitness to preside over the trial, has decided that he is beyond reproach and will continue as heretofore. Mr. Henev is away, but Mr. Landen will seize the opportunity to display the forensic ability that has thus far been obscured by his pushful "assistant." The plottings, of course, are drawing near and a continuous performance must be maintained for the benefit of the gallery.—The Argonaut.

TO MARRY
INTO ROYALTY

I heard a society dame boasting the other day that she once knew "Silent" Smith, afterward the stepfather of Miss Anita Stewart, who if she carries out her announced intention of marrying Prince Miguel of Braganza, will be the first American girl to wed into a European royal family. Smith at the time he visited here was eligible enough without any future possibilities of connection by marriage with royalty. Afterward he married the divorced wife of William Rhineland Stewart, and died on board his yacht at Klotz, Japan, while on his wedding trip. Miss Anita Stewart is 24 years of age, and is possessed of a smaller fortune than usually tempts the European nobility, her stepfather having left her but $600,000. However, her mother has more than $2,000,000. Prince Miguel is a grandson of the Prince of Braganza, who was king of Portugal from 1826 to 1834, when he was deposed. He is the eldest son of Duke Miguel of Braganza, his mother being Princess Elizabeth of Thurn and Taxis. Ever since the grandfather was deposed the family have pretended to the throne of Portugal. In marrying a commoner Prince Miguel will have to surrender this claim, which, in view of the fact that it is a more or less visionary one, and that the throne of Portugal is not a very great prize, would not be much of a sacrifice. He is an officer in the Austro-Hungarian army and is wealthy.—Town Talk.

THE "WORLD'S"
MOTHER'S WEDS

Just a few weeks ago a magazine published a story about the Nurses' Settlement, of which Miss Octavine Briggs was the head, in which the writer mentioned Miss Briggs' great love for children. "She is a world's mother," was the closing word of a very prettily phrased picture of the well-known charity worker. And now the "world's mother" is a bride, and outsiders wonder whether her marriage with Mr. John B. Schweitzer means that she will no longer manage the work of the Nurses' Settlement, which is carried on through the generosity of Mrs. Will Crocker, President Wheeler of the State University, John G. Howard and a few others. Miss Briggs and Mr. Schweitzer were married in the Swedenborgian Church last Sunday, and only confident friends. The world at large did not know of the marriage until days later, when the happy couple were well off on their honeymoon trip.—The Wasp.

FUNSTON TALKS OF CUBA

That gallant soldier, General Frederick Funston, who is now enjoying a vacation in this city, was asked the other day if he believed the Cubans were capable of self government. He replied that the only opinion he had formed with reference to the Cubans was that they had earned a good fair trial. He felt that it would be most sad were the Cubans to be deprived of their independence in view of the desperate struggle which they had made for it during a long period of years. The General was in reminiscent mood in the midst of a group of friends at the Francis, and the Cuban question opened up what proved to be a topic of current interest to him, for he has just finished a short history of the insurrection led to the Spanish war. He wrote it at the request of the editors of Scribner's. Funston, it will be remembered, was a hero in Cuba before he went to the Philippines. Animated by a passion for justice, he joined the insurgents in Cuba, and as an artillery officer he fought against the Spanish troops in the Three Years' War that was brought to a close by the blowing up of the Maine. And Funston, though his achievements during the Spanish war were of a considerable number, saw more fighting in Cuba than he has seen since.

Discussing the Cuban insurrection General Funston astonished his hearers by telling them of the magnitude of the losses sustained therein. "The records show," said Funston, "that the Cubans lost more men during that insurrection than were lost by this country in the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Spanish War and the Philippine insurrection." To be exact the total number of Cubans who were either killed in action or died subsequently of wounds was 4,156, while our losses were as follows: War of 1812, 1200; Mexican War, 1800; Spanish War, 833; Philippine insurrection, 961. That the Spaniards were kept pretty busy in Cuba is evident from the fact that 7200 were killed and 18,000 died of diseases contracted in camps.—Town Talk.

MEN CHAPERONES
THE LATEST

The "man chaperone" is a novelty in London, and he promises to become permanent. Taking out a girl relative or child of an invalid friend is one of the hardest duties of the married woman. It was a happy thought to turn the dull bachelor, long past their youth, to some use. Then men, too, have been flattered by this easy responsibility and they take delight in guiding the young misses through the London drawing-room, theaters and all the rest.—The Wasp.

THE BEER
VANISHES

A servant with a thirst for beer and a sense of humor brought great disappointment to a number of Ross Valley's elect the other night. Several of them had met at an informal party, and along toward midnight the hostess suggested that they have some beer, as the day had been extremely hot. So it was the servant's night out, the host went to the cellar, and reaching into the barrel brought forth several bottles in their straw wrappings. He carried an armful of them upstairs, and as he appeared with his burden an anticipatory "Ah!" went up from the guests, for the night was warm. With dexterity indicating much practice the host piled the cap from one of the bottles, and poured out—water. And that was what the others contained. The beer had been drunk, water substituted, then the bottles re-capped, put back in their straw wrappings, and stowed away in the bottom of the barrel. The servant left before breakfast the next morning. A similar happening is reported in another Ross Valley household, but in this case there were several servants, and as there was no means of finding which was the guilty one, or if they all shared in the transgression, none of them lost their positions, their employer not caring to adopt the Rooseveltian method.—Town Talk.

IT IS NOW
REAR-ADMIRAL PHELPS

For the first time in the history of the United States Navy a Californian has been advanced to the grade of Rear-Admiral, the officer being Captain Thomas S. Phelps, who today, July 24, is advanced to that exalted rank. Admiral Phelps has for some time past been the commandant at the Mare Island Navy Yard, and it is the consensus of naval opinion that never has that yard been conducted so efficiently as during the Phelps administration. The new Admiral Phelps has made his home in California all his life, as did his father for some years before him. He was the first commanding officer of the big armored cruiser California, and was relieved of that duty to take charge of the navy yard while only a captain, although it is a Rear-Admiral's post.—The Wasp.

A COSTLY
CAT

Is an Angora cat worth $15 plus a bandage, a well-filled purse, a diamond ring and $20 worth of seats to "The Merry Widow"? That is what Mrs. A. Redding's long-haired cat cost her, and now she is guarding the animal with extra care because of its value. She had bargained for the Angora, and before going to the catery or wherever pussy was kept, called at the Van Ness Theater where she purchased ten tickets, intending to take a bevy of friends to the performance. Then she went to get her cat, which errand, accomplished, she went home. It was on arriving there that she missed the bag and the contents mentioned. Up to the present time they have not been recovered. Mrs. Redding is satisfied that she had to make in going after her newly acquired pet she unwittingly dropped the valuables.—Town Talk.

A QUEEN
IN REVOLT

Queen Helena of Italy has revolted against the gigantic hats which French milliners have endeavored to impose on Italian women of fashion. Her Majesty and most of the ladies of her court do not wear a hat of any description, says the Rome correspondent of the Paris Journal, but instead have adopted a sort of light mantilla to wear in public. The movement of protest against "ridiculous" fashions inflicted on us from abroad" is said to be spreading throughout the Roman aristocracy.—The Wasp.

A DISTINGUISHED
CALIFORNIAN

Though Justice Joseph McKenna of the Supreme Court of the United States, who is now on a visit here, has not been in California for nearly ten years, he keeps in close touch with affairs in this State and here he has some very warm friends. Justice McKenna is not a Californian by birth, but he came to this State with his parents before he reached his teens and during the years of his public career. He has a very ardent affection for this State, and whenever he is visited in Washington by people from California he makes them feel that the hospitality of the State has been transferred to that it is flourishing in the District of Columbia. California ought to be proud of Justice McKenna, for it was as a representative of this State that he began the brilliant career which he is now rounding out in the most exalted of the Constitutional offices of this republic. The Federal Supreme Court is the grandest of all the departments of our government. It is the department which in the past, in the conflicts between the States and the Federation preserved the machinery of government, and it is the department which in the future, in the conflict of classes, must enforce the ultimate object of government, the protection of property and preservation of personal rights. No Californian ever had so distinguished a career as that of Justice McKenna.—Town Talk.

SOCIETY AND
AMATEUR DRAMATICS

Society has refrigerated its dramatic talent for many months, but is now ready to take it out of the ice box perfectly intact and thoroughly congealed. The process of thawing out is to take place under the auspices of Mrs. Gus Taylor, Mrs. Will Taylor and Mrs. Fred McNear. These three dashing sisters are going to give a vaudeville entertainment, and already the young people who are to play are rehearsing. Mrs. McNear is the only one of the hostesses who will take part, as neither of her sisters have ever been caught trying with dramatic ambition. Amateur theatricals are bulky fun, and were thoroughly accredited as a society routine long before the Knights made round tables the mode in Arthurian England. Even those who have not read the ingenious love intrigues of the "Duchess" know that an English country house that does not provide for theatricals does not meet the building requirements of English society. An English girl who, at some time or another in her life, has not fixed her blushes for the footlights, is born English girl sketches, if she does not pencil her eyebrows. She may not be keen on perspective, but always she does "lovely" water colors and likewise she "play-acts."—News Letter.

THE
M'NAB FLOAT

Gavin McNab, who is blessed with a warm imagination as well as clear judgment, has designed a float for the Portola parade which has been pronounced by artists an exquisitely poetical conception. The float is to be illustrative of the growth of San Francisco, and a single, compact tableau will symbolize the evolution from a village to a metropolis. The metropolis idea will be expressed by Jimmy Phelan in the role of a civic center of righteousness. Mayor Taylor will figure as the Survival of the Fittest, made up to represent a Sutter street horse car. Gazing down on this antique from an eminence resembling one of the Twin Peaks, the Spirit of the Past, fashioned in the likeness of Governor Portola, will repeat along the route of march these words: "The only landmark that I recognize!"—Town Talk.

ENGAGEMENT OF
MISS BREWER

The engagement of Miss Nora Brewer of Burlingame to Edward T. Cudahy, the son of the great packer, is an event that has cast its shadow before ever since the day that Mrs. Jack Casserly's brother met Miss Nora, who is as fascinating as the delightful Nora of the Turquoise Cup. "The Brewer girls," as Amy and Nora are always called, are clever, capable girls who do not drone away their lives in idleness. Nora's engagement to Edward Cudahy is considered an ideal match, and those who gathered at the dinner which Mrs. Van Ness gave in honor of her niece beamed happiness over the affair. Miss Nora is a social protegee of the new society leader, Mrs. Alexander, and is frequently the guest of Miss Harriett Alexander on her visits to town. The wedding is to be an event of early winter.—News Letter.

MAY RESTORE MACHINES

The clear dealers of this city whose revenue has been seriously curtailed by the abolition of the slot machines are planning a new move—nothing less than submitting the restoration of the slot machines to a popular vote at the coming election. The poolsters resorted to a similar measure several years ago. The clear men have with them the manufacturers of the machines and the hundreds of clerks who lost their positions through the devices being put out of business. I almost believe that an ordinance restoring the machines would be passed if submitted to a popular vote. The machine habit became very firmly fixed here. Every day I see men spending real money for smokes, the while looking with yearning, lonesome air at the counters where the machines used to be. They know well enough that they are saving money under present conditions; but the gambling spirit is so strong that they are willing to take a chance and pay for their fun.—Town Talk.

MORAL ETHICS OF EVELYN THAW

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw said to a reporter in New York the other day: "I am distinctly immoral, as the world today views morals. I have my own code of ethics and I live up to them. But from present day ideals I am immoral." Sounds like an echo from a remark almost identical which Lily Langtry once made when she was on close terms with the King of England, then the Prince of Wales. They both placed the inflection in "immoral" on the "un," as distinguished from "in." They do not consider themselves that far from it. Note they have their own code of morals and live up to them, and they blame the world for not having the same kind. There is something to say on both sides. The world has come to its code of morals through a series of harassing experiences, which it wanted to put behind forever so that justice to all should prevail. What angered the Jersey Lily, and it seems now has had the same effect on the pretty model, is that the world will not recognize their form of immorality. They call it "unmoral." That's a mere sophistry. They see women marrying and divorcing and going from man to man with the favoring and helping hand of the law; they prefer to go without this assistance.—News Letter.

A DRESDEN
EXPERIENCE

There are some who say that Mrs. Atherton exaggerated when she stated that even whispering would not be tolerated during an operatic performance abroad. But she is entirely right. A friend told me only yesterday of bringing down the wrath of the Germans on her head during a performance in Dresden. She had taken her opera glasses to the theater with her in a heavy envelope, which she had needed. While the overture was being played she attempted to remove the glasses from their covering, which caused quite an audible rustling of the envelope. Instantly from all sides came a "Sh-h-h" that sounded to her like the roar of an express train. She hardly dared breathe during the remainder of the evening.—Town Talk.

CRIME TO ATTEMPT SUICIDE

The State of Washington has a new law which will have the effect of making would-be suicides follow Davy Crockett's advice and be very sure that they are right before they go ahead. The law makes it a crime to attempt to commit suicide. If the suicide perfects his work he is passed on to a jurisdiction higher than the State of Washington. But if he fails in his attempt he is dragged into the Police Court to explain why the yards of life were so enormous that he sought to pass on to a ghostly sphere, to the Mecca of more travelers, even, than Seattle. I presume the theory of the law is, that if the jury finds that the man's troubles are sufficient to justify him in ending them, capital punishment will be inflicted, and everyone concerned will be satisfied.—News Letter.

MASON CONVERTED TO CATHOLICISM

A San Francisco, very high in Masonry, tells me that the Marquis of Ripon, whom he met while abroad some years ago, and who died in London recently, was at the time he knew him one of the most enthusiastic members of the order that he ever associated with. Yet Ripon died a Catholic, having been converted after he had been Grand Master of the Free Masons of England. I have known of Catholics who had become Masons going back to the church on their deathbed, but for a Protestant to abandon the Masonic order to join the Catholic Church is a very rare occurrence.—Town Talk.

PHILOSOPHY OF
TIV KRELING

Never was there shown a brighter example of the high brow, James H. Kreling, of criticism, one art in the terms of another than by the latest words of "Tiv" Kreling, heir to the ashes and musical traditions of the Tivoli Opera House. Mr. Kreling is now a supreme judge of the court of aesthetics. He presides with dignity and aplomb in the judicial district of Coffroth's Mission street arena, and there is no appellate jurisdiction over him. Therefore, his word must be listened to with reverence, particularly when he says, discussing the fight over which he officiated as referee last Saturday: "Mr. Young Corbett fought in flats; Mr. Frayne in sharp." The sharps, by the way, won.—News Letter.

A RURAL INQUEST

The pompousness of small fry officials was strikingly demonstrated at the inquest of William Von Meyerling, the bookkeeper for the Union State Bank, who killed himself at Lakespur. The inquest was held on Sunday, and four newspapermen, three from this city and one from San Rafael, were on hand. They were informed by Coroner Sawyer of San Rafael that they could not all attend, as the proceedings were not to be public. "I had an idea that all inquests were public," mildly ventured one of the reporters. "Well," replied the coroner, "it may be that they are in a way. In fact, one might say they are semi-public. For that reason I will let one of you attend, and he can tell the others what goes on." Seemingly assenting the reporters waited until a constable came along with jury material, and then slipped unobtrusively in with the official and his charges. Seeing that they had gained admittance, Sawyer hesitated. He was sure of his right to keep them out, but that the law empowered him to throw them out once they had gained admittance he was somewhat doubtful. So he let them remain. Then his troubles and the reporters' triumphs began. "Why, why," he spluttered, "there are only eight jurors; we must have nine." A reporter consented to be the ninth. Then there was another difficulty. "There is no shorthand man here to take down the regulations," lamented Sawyer, suppressing a smile, a second reporter who wrote shorthand volunteered to be the shorthand writer. This was all right as far as it went, but soon the third difficulty arose. The note left by the dead man was offered in evidence, but as it was written in German Sawyer could not read it. "Is there anybody here who can interpret this note?" inquired the harassed coroner. A third reporter acted as court interpreter. So that of the four reporters who were admitted, Sawyer made use of three. The newspapermen met with anything but a cordial reception from the

DOWN AND OUTS
PRAISE HER

It is reported from Berlin that the Crusade for the Reformation of the European Aristocracy, started by Princess Marie Maximilianovna of Baden is not being welcomed by the down and out bums and counts which the organization seeks to reform. The purpose of the movement is to start a sort of Reulian home for disreputable nobles, where they will be taught some honest trade like blacksmithing or millinery. But the aristocratic scions object. They claim that they have a particularly lucrative profession now—the juggling of American and other heiresses for their money.—News Letter.

VAUDEVILLE AND ITS
PLAY FOR FAVOR

Humorous aspects of infidelity continue to form the principal theme for entertainment devised by the vaudeville people. The talented young men and women who write for or act upon the vaudeville stage, and the accomplished business men who handle the circuit realize the attraction that such subjects have for the people who buy seats at their houses.

So the complaint isn't against the theater managers nor against the actors, and singers. Only, it is a curious fact that an instance of infidelity, patterned forth to provoke merriment, can always arouse a laugh. The latest comedy on marriage, faithfulness—"I love my wife, but I won't kid." Probably there is not a nice young lady or school girl in the city who does not murmur that bad as she deems the sacred images in her sleeping room, or lays the table for her father's breakfast. There surely isn't a joyful lady with mid-night automobile promenades who doesn't warble the song as the rent car skids unto the Great Highway at the ocean beach. It seems to be a song of universal appeal—in fact, an appeal so universal that it is relegated in formal, legal prose in the divorce courts about ten times every week. To analyze the selection, it seems to meet the every demand of a popular poem. It conveys such a funny picture, too. That of an unamiable wife finding her husband in a "cave"—say the "Breaker," down stairs near the Hall of Justice, and yanking him away from his cups while he chants poor music to a casual lady.

It is quite an amusing song, and when the National Association of Affinities meets in Chicago next June, it will doubtless be adopted as the national air.—News Letter.

COMMENDS DOCTRINE OF DR. RUSSELL

The commendable work of Pastor Russell, the Brooklyn, N. Y., Presbyterian clergyman in Oakland last Sunday, when he abolished hell, will be rewarded with the applause of the sinful multitude, which never did like to place very much away, and only was going there because it lay at the end of the "Darkest Way." But truck drivers, editors of departments and newspaper editors, whose work requires a virile vocabulary, will regret exceedingly the action of the worthy clergyman. He has nullified the force of their best phrase. Now only can we say: "Go to—where?"—News Letter.

NEW NAVY USAGE
ABOUT KISSING

The finding of the Secretary of the Navy in the case of Lieutenant Francis Wayne Osburn, U. S. N., charged with having committed an offense by kissing the wife of Naval Constructor Holden A. Evans of Mare Island, establishes a new code in the service. By the irrefutable logic of the Washington decision, it is as heinous an offense to kiss a brother officer's wife as it is to make a roar when your own helmsman has been killed by the aforeaid brother officer.—News Letter.

EVERY WOMAN

Covets a fresh, smooth, satiny complexion, and what satisfaction and peace of mind its possession brings. The lines of age, worry and overwork are rendered by a single application of Mrs. Nettle HARRISON'S LOLA MONTEZ CREME. A wonderful soothing and protective to a dry, cracked or chapped skin. It is Completion Insurance. Convince yourself of its remarkable power by obtaining a free sample and Book "SECRET OF BEAUTY AND GOOD HEALTH" at WISHART'S DRUG STORE, Cor. 10th and Washington Sts.

BANK OF GERMANY

1225 BROADWAY, OAKLAND, CAL.
Paid-up Capital.....$105,955.56
Surplus and Profit..... 94,377.69
Deposits..... 338,666.69
The Bank is in the hands of conservative and efficient managers. It is prepared to transact all branches of legitimate banking and invest the funds of depositors in banks, bankers, merchants, corporations, and individuals. It promises prompt attention to any business entrusted to its care.
By depositing One Dollar we will give you one of our Pocket Banks.
Four per cent interest paid on term deposits.
OFFICERS:
Theo. Gler, President.
A. Jones, Vice-President.
R. F. Christ, Asst. Cashier.
Geo. E. DeGolia, Attorney.

TONNESEN'S TWIRLING TOO MUCH FOR SEALS

PITCHER TONNESEN, of the Athenians, whose work in the box yesterday proved the undoing of the San Francisco club.

ATHENIANS' SMOTHER GRIFFIN WITH AVALANCHE OF HARD BINGLES IN FOURTH INNING

Batting Rally Gives Oaks Four Runs—Tonnesen Hands Out Puzzling Twisters to the League Leaders

By HERMAN F. BUDDE.

BILL REIDY had a hunch that there would be something doing in the fourth battle with the Seals. "His boys" were singing "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" all the way across the bay, and on the boat Jimmy Wiggs was peddling out yams by the spoonful. As soon as he cracked one chestnut he tossed another into the crowd and kept the Athenians smiling with laughter. It is no wonder, fed on this kind of a diet, that the lads maced and wallowed Griffin as they did. Any athlete buoyed up by the locals would have made a supreme effort to roll the Seals, if not the umpire.

If the third round were wiped away, however, Griffin could smile a thousand smiles, for it was only in that stanza that he hit the wrong key. The notes squeaked and grated on the ear worse than any music master ever heard them—that is, to the ears of the San Franciscans, for to the Oaklanders they were sounds of heavenly harmony. Every time an Athenian bunched out a single it was hearing Orpheus play on the lyre, lulling the Tigers to docility and urging the Oaks to action.

Duffey Lewis Started War Whoop

Duffey Lewis was the cause of it all. His single to center started the war-whoop. Cameron caught the echo and waited his way to first on a peach-erino to the right garden. Hogan was the next Oaklander and the "young war horse" came through in splendid fashion. He simply mauled Griffin's twister and sent it helter-skelter to the left lot, sending Lewis across the jumps. It was McKune who turned the Oaks to laughter and the Seals to tears. Getting a wireless from Bill Reidy that the next batter would be a lalla palu, he went to it and had it not been for the fence, Jim Williams in the left zone would be still on the hunt. To make a short story long, and a long one short, in other words half and half, McKune peppered out a two-bagger, circulating Cameron and Hogan.

Griffin has to admit that he was being squashed to a huckleberry. Mohler admitted it, and so did Danny Long. Browning and Henley were given hurry up orders to get their salary arms in shape, ready at a moment's notice to step into the fray and stop the "Kopengheiser" that was being watted to the breeze in honor of the conquered Seals. In the meantime little "Nasty" Ragan stopped to the rubber and clouted the leather to short. He was safe at the first sack by a mile, but Umpire Mark Levison graciously came to the rescue of the league leaders and called the Reidy out. There was not much of a howl over this decision, but a little later when one of the Mohlerites was called out at the first peg a shriek went up that would have made a cow weep. It seems to make a heap of difference what kind of "lie" is called out.

Griffin Steadies After the Third

Griffin decided to remain in the fraas after that fatal chapter in his life's career, and it was well he did, for he pitched as pretty a chapter of ball as one would want to see. But pretty as it was, he was unable to outdo the fourth frame, and the game leaned much toward the Athenians. In their half of the fourth the Seals tried hard to start something, but somehow or other the wheel got clogged every time the order was given. One run was scored through the performance, but for this they are indebted to Carroll. After Bodie had reached first on a single past short, he was escorted to the difficult corner when Carroll missed J. Williams' fly, coming in home on Berry's line drive over shortstop.

Tennesen had all the Seals on his staff, and during the entire nine innings only four hits were made off of his delivery. On several occasions his opponents tried in the worst way to stir up a hornets' nest, but the poor hornets refused to bite.

In order that every fan may know where the Coast league management stands regarding betting on ball games, it was ordered that a monster sign be painted on the fence, and so accordingly work was commenced on it yesterday. The words on it are to the effect that gambling on baseball games is strictly prohibited, and that any one caught in the act of making odds or accepting them would be arrested and tried on the charge of violating the Otis-Walker anti-betting law.

Mark Levison essayed to come to the assistance of Toman, but the new arbitrator more than held his hands full on close decisions. Reidy poured melodious words into his ear when he called Ragan out at first, and Captain Levison followed Reidy's example when Tennant was waved away on a questionable ruling. Ragan was patted on the back and it appeared as if he beat the ball to first. Zeider was also retired on a steal to second, and for this Levison was the auditor to some extent, spiny language. The fans finally took up the matter of giving the new "ump" an ovation, and he was showered with all kinds of compliments, such as "robust," "thief," "get out of there," "Oh, you bush-o," "Eh, where did you come from?" "Get out of the trance," "wake up," and other euphonious remarks on the same order.

Mohler was about the grounds. His knee is improving rapidly and yesterday he discarded the cane. It will be a week, anyway, before the kid is back in the game.

Scout Bobby Lowe left for Portland last night, but before going sent word to Hughey Jennings that Pitcher Henley has the qualities of a major leaguer. The report was a glowing recommendation, and "Silvers" no doubt will see a shift of scenery when spring practice comes rolling around.

The double steal which worked so successfully Wednesday was tried again yesterday by the Athenians, but Berry and McArdle nipped the performance and Carroll was caught out at the plate.

Northwestern League

Team	W	L	T	P	AB	R	H	ER	PO	A	E
San Francisco	18	10	2	0	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Oakland	15	13	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Portland	12	16	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Seattle	10	18	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Vernon	8	20	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Sacramento	7	21	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Spokane	6	22	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Butte	5	23	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Idaho	4	24	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Bozeman	3	25	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Helena	2	26	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Great Falls	1	27	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Missoula	0	28	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108

RAIN STOPS RACING.

DETROIT, July 24.—The harness races scheduled for the Windsor track yesterday were declared off on account of rain.

Dr. May Cures Men

Remember
When in trouble, have any acute or chronic disease, such as Gonorrhea, Syphilis, etc., consult Dr. May. He is a specialist in these diseases and will cure you in the shortest time.

20 YEARS A SPECIALIST.

services of the most successful specialist who has the latest practice and who gives the most exacting personal care to every patient. DR. MAY'S NAME MEANS SUCCESS. He has brought with him all the modern instruments and new systems of treatment from scientific Europe and his office and laboratory are in a model and complete building.

DOCTORS AND PATIENTS. He is most gentle and gives his help to both sexes. He is a specialist in all diseases of the blood, and his office is in a building of the highest quality. He is a specialist in all diseases of the blood, and his office is in a building of the highest quality.

ANY MAN who has ever had CONTACT with the disease of SYPHILIS, or who has been the victim of any of the diseases of the blood, should consult Dr. May. He is a specialist in these diseases and will cure you in the shortest time.

DR. MAY

1054 Broadway, Cor. 11th, Oakland, Cal.

TRANSPORTATION TEAM PLAYS GOODYEARS TOMORROW

Photograph of the Transportation Baseball Club which plays Goodyears tomorrow at the Grove Street Park. Players reading from left to right, top row—J. J. Mitchell, George G. Fraser, W. H. Grinnel, Joe Casket, Mickey Thompson, A. P. Michelson, J. F. McCann. Bottom row—Artie Benham, Jim Reardon, J. Scanlan, E. M. Pomeroy.

The Transportation Club baseball team of the Transbay League will play the fast Goodyears tomorrow afternoon at the Grove street grounds at 2:30 o'clock. The Goodyear team has only lost one game this year, and they should give the club a hard game. The "rubbers" have defeated such fast teams as the Barney Frankis, Yountville, Shreve & Co., Hayward and Centerville by large scores. The Marines of Mare Island defeated them and the Transportation Club defeated the Marines. The Goodyears will make a determined effort to beat the railroaders. Nilsson will umpire.

ALAMEDA ALERTS URGED TO ACCEPT BERTH IN NEW PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

Joseph Kreig, manager of the Alameda Alerts baseball nine, has received a communication from Bob Eager, manager of the new league, composed of San Jose, Vallejo and Napa, asking the Alameda Alerts to join the league, which will be known as a class B league, and offering flattering inducements to the local team. Eager paints in glowing colors the advantages to be gained by entering the league and promises to make the financial consideration north of the bay. Kreig replied that he would have to consult with the members of the team in regard to accepting the proposition, as he wanted them to decide the matter. It is not probable that the offer will be accepted, as the Transbay League, as reorganized, is one of the strongest leagues outside of professional ranks in the whole country and the schedule for the second year is already being fixed. So Manager Kreig informed Eager that he did not think the Alerts could accept his offer this year, but that there might be something doing next season. This offer is a great compliment to the Alerts, for it shows that they are regarded as fit material for a class B league.

St. Louis Broker Buys Louisville Ball Club

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 24.—William Gravson, Jr., a stock broker of St. Louis, is now the new owner of the Louisville baseball club. The purchase price, it is understood, is $50,000. The sale of the club includes the franchise, leases, players and good will, without any incumbrances. The deal has been pending for several days.

Chicago Americans After Pitcher Kinsella

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—In all probability Eddie Kinsella, formerly with the Beavers, but now with the Portland Northwestern team, will be sold to the Chicago Americans. Fielder Jones, acting for Chicago, has made an offer for Kinsella and Kinsella has said that he expects to be accepted to accept it. Kinsella has been pitching great ball lately.

$7000 Bid for Hughes By Manager of Detroit

CHICAGO, July 24.—Tom Hughes, the tall pitcher of the Senators, is wanted by the Detroit club. "Hughes is successful against the Cleveland team and the Detroit club wants him to use against the Naps." It is reported that Jennings has offered $7000 for the veteran pitcher.

COBB GETS 100 HITS.

TY COBB has hit the hundred mark. A two-bagger in the fourth signaled his centennial bingle.

Vernons Play Rings Around Sacramento

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Vernon had an easy time of it yesterday, winning from the Senators in a walkie fashion. In the first inning Hogan gave the signal and his warriors charged Fitzgerald into retreat, getting a run over the plate. In consequence of two head-locks that were scattered effectively on the battlefield.

The job was given a finishing touch in the eighth when Vernon went in to relieve his catcher. The Senators fell on him for three hits out of them being a triple from the bat of Mott, resulting in two more runs.

The home team played great ball behind Schaefer. He blanked the Aristocrats and allowed them but three bingles. Howard tied his hand at holding down the middle peg and carried away the honors in brilliant fashion.

Vernon

Team	W	L	T	P	AB	R	H	ER	PO	A	E
Vernon	18	10	2	0	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
San Francisco	15	13	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Oakland	12	16	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Portland	10	18	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Seattle	8	20	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Sacramento	7	21	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Spokane	6	22	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Butte	5	23	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Idaho	4	24	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Bozeman	3	25	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Helena	2	26	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Great Falls	1	27	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108
Missoula	0	28	1	1	1085	108	285	108	108	108	108

Y. M. C. A. FIELD MEET WON BY SEATTLE ATHLETES

Vancouver Team Is Second; No Great Records Are Made

SEATTLE, July 24.—In the international Young Men's Christian Association meet, held yesterday at the exposition grounds, the Seattle team came out first with 25 points. Vancouver, second with 20, and Knappa City third with 17. The following were the results of the various events: 100 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 15.5; 200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 32.5; 400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1:05.5; 800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2:15.5; 1600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 4:35.5; 3200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 9:15.5; 6400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 18:45.5; 12800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 38:15.5; 25600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 77:45.5; 51200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 155:15.5; 102400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 310:45.5; 204800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 621:15.5; 409600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1242:45.5; 819200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2485:15.5; 1638400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 4970:45.5; 3276800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 9941:15.5; 6553600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 19882:45.5; 13107200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 39765:15.5; 26214400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 79530:45.5; 52428800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 159061:15.5; 104857600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 318122:45.5; 209715200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 636245:15.5; 419430400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1272490:45.5; 838860800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2544981:15.5; 1677721600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5089962:45.5; 3355443200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 10179925:15.5; 6710886400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 20359850:45.5; 13421772800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 40719701:15.5; 26843545600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 81439402:45.5; 53687091200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 162878805:15.5; 107374182400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 325757610:45.5; 214748364800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 651515220:15.5; 429496729600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1303030440:45.5; 858993459200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2606060880:15.5; 1717986918400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5212121760:45.5; 3435973836800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 10424243520:15.5; 6871947673600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 20848487040:45.5; 13743895347200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 41696974080:15.5; 27487790694400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 83393948160:45.5; 54975581388800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 166787896320:15.5; 109951162777600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 333575792640:45.5; 219902325555200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 667151585280:15.5; 439804651110400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1334303170560:45.5; 879609302220800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2668606341120:15.5; 1759218604441600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5337212682240:45.5; 3518437208883200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 10674425364480:15.5; 7036874417766400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 21348850728960:45.5; 14073748835532800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 42697701457920:15.5; 28147497671065600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 85395402915840:45.5; 56294995342131200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 170790805831680:15.5; 112589990684262400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 341581611663360:45.5; 225179981368524800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 683163223326720:15.5; 450359962737049600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1366326446653440:45.5; 900719925474099200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2732652893306880:15.5; 1801439850948198400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5465305786613760:45.5; 3602879701896396800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 10930611573227520:15.5; 7205759403792793600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 21861223146455040:45.5; 14411518807585587200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 43722446292910080:15.5; 28823037615171174400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 87444892585820160:45.5; 57646075230342348800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 174889785171640320:15.5; 115292150460684697600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 349779570343280640:45.5; 230584300921369395200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 699559140686561280:15.5; 461168601842738790400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1399118281373122560:45.5; 922337203685477580800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2798236562746245120:15.5; 1844674407370955161600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5596473125492490240:45.5; 3689348814741910323200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 11192946250984980480:15.5; 7378697629483820646400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 22385892501969960960:45.5; 14757395258967641292800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 44771785003939921920:15.5; 29514790517935282585600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 89543570007879843840:45.5; 590295810358705651702400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 179087140015759687680:15.5; 1180591620717411303411200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 358174280031519375360:45.5; 2361183241434822606822400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 716348560063038750720:15.5; 4722366482869645213644800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1432697120126077501440:45.5; 9444732965739290427289600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2865394240252155002880:15.5; 18889465931478580854579200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5730788480504310005760:45.5; 37778931862957161709158400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 11461576961008620011520:15.5; 75557863725914323418316800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 22923153922017240023040:45.5; 151115727451828646836633600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 45846307844034480046080:15.5; 302231454903657293673267200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 91692615688068960092160:45.5; 604462909807314587346534400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 183385231376137920184320:15.5; 1208925819614629174693068800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 366770462752275840368640:45.5; 2417851639229258349386137600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 733540925504551680737280:15.5; 4835703278458516698772275200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1467081851009103361474560:45.5; 9671406556917033397544550400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 2934163702018206722949120:15.5; 19342813113834066795089100800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 5868327404036413445898240:45.5; 38685626227668133590178201600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 11736654808072826891796480:15.5; 77371252455336267180356403200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 23473309616145653783592960:45.5; 154742504910672534360712806400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 46946619232291307567185920:15.5; 309485009821345068721425612800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 93893238464582615134371840:45.5; 618970019642690137442851225600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 187786476929165230268743680:15.5; 1237940039285380274885702451200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 375572953858330460537487360:45.5; 2475880078570760549771404902400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 751145907716660921074974720:15.5; 4951760157141521099542809804800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 1502291815433321842149949440:45.5; 9903520314283042199085619609600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 3004583630866643684299898880:15.5; 19807040628566084398171239219200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 6009167261733287368599797760:45.5; 39614081257132168796342478438400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 12018334523466574737199595520:15.5; 79228162514264337592684956876800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 24036669046933149474399191040:45.5; 158456325028528675185369913753600 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 48073338093866298948798382080:15.5; 316912650057057350370739827507200 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 96146676187732597897596764160:45.5; 633825300114114700741479655014400 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 192293352375465195795193528320:15.5; 1267650600228229401482959310028800 yard dash—J. Kinsella (Seattle), 3845867047509

PRIVATE WIRE
CHICAGO-NEWYORK

U. C. WILSON

W. C. WILSON
Member New York Stock Exchange,
Chicago Board of Trade, The Stock and Bond Exchange of San Francisco.
Mills Building, San Francisco.
Phone Kearny 452.
LOS ANGELES—Hotel Alexandria.

NEWS OF SHIPPING

U. S. COAST AND GEODETIC SURVEY time and height of the tide and low water at of public entrance to the harbor has the official authority of the independent The of the low and high water of the city front
The U. S. coast survey is the only one of the

The time it takes the steam tug to follow the				The length of ride from the pier bridge to the time indicated in
tab.				tab.
H. J. 24 1 29				H. J. 24 1 29
H	W	L	W	H	W	L	W
Time	Feet	Time	Feet	Time	Feet	Time	Feet
4	4.20	8	1.00	10	1.00	11	1.00
5	4.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
6	4.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
7	4.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
8	5.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
9	5.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
10	5.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
11	5.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
12	5.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
13	5.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
14	6.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
15	6.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
16	6.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
17	6.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
18	6.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
19	6.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
20	7.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
21	7.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
22	7.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
23	7.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
24	7.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
25	7.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
26	8.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
27	8.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
28	8.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
29	8.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
30	8.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
31	8.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
32	9.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
33	9.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
34	9.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
35	9.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
36	9.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
37	9.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
38	10.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
39	10.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
40	10.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
41	10.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
42	10.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
43	10.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
44	11.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
45	11.10	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
46	11.20	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
47	11.30	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
48	11.40	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
49	11.50	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
50	12.00	5.10	1.00	21	1.00	11	1.00
51	12.10	5.10</

[illegible][illegible]

BONDHOLDERS

It is proposed to refinance the Ocean Shore.

The new plan materially affects every bondholder.

Bondholders who have not received printed information, or those who want additional information regarding the proposed plan, should communicate at once with us, or with the Mercantile

NO LATE TO CLASSIFY

OIL LAND-
acres of oil lands (located) on mother of oil vein promising on tracts lease sell off in 6 months or exchange for horse and buggy auto or cash Price $3.50 per acre Box 7658
Lumberton, Oklahoma

Exchange, a choice lot in Melbourne
Florida, Gardington's first bargain
6 room modern house Box 8247,
Thurston

BROOM house 5 b'ys 6 below lot
#100 faces on Louisville way 100 ft.
Boulevard, 100 ft. wide, 100 ft. deep $1000 wanted for $500 money With exchange for $300 house and lot in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma Thomas &
Daugherty, 4830 Telegraph Ave., Oakland

DAB fold-in. boxed $4 $6 $8 ex.
boxed oak $3.50, oak $3.50, ex.

$5.00 every place a bargain. Call on Mr. O'Brien at Auction Co. 759-371 363 13th at Webster.

FURNISHED—Furnished cottage of 4 rooms Fruitvale rent reasonable. Address S 125 7th at Webster.

Flat for Rent

privately built all conveniences rent $2.00. Located near high school 101st & Franklin near 11th owner on premises. Call 4-6299000 or see Mr. Magan at Abrahamson's 11th and Washington.

Your Opportunity

40x100 $50 down $10 per month modern cottage close in sacrifice call V Wehrs & Co 34 Telegraph

OWNER with first-class experience general guiding into a green house and best returns wishes position call 331-7000

SALE cheap lots $4 corner $90 down $13 per in milk Call on Hall
San Pablo a/c. corner 50th st.
For sale 70 must be sold, all to drive and rise dark bay, skins about 50 lbs. Call on Hall, corner 1838 San Pablo at EXCELLENT 2nd hand furnished 5-in flat bath and electric $22.50
Hobart
TIFU, flat in Piedmont, new efficient new Inquil .60 Mortgage

Oakland Tribune

Member American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

W. E. DARGIE,

President,

JOHN F. CONNERS,

Managing Editor,

J. CLEM ARNOLD,

Business Manager.

Every evening and morning. Morning

TRIBUTE (six days a week), 50c per month. Publication office, TRIBUNE Building, 500 Broadway, corner of 14th and

Franklin streets. Phone 528.

Entered at Oakland Postoffice as second class matter.

Sample copies free on application.

Publication Office, TRIBUNE Building, corner of 14th and Franklin streets. Phone 528.

Home Phone—Advertising Department, 4215; Subscription Department,

4215; Circulation Department, 4215;

Editorial Department, 4215;

Business Office, 4215.

Branch Office, 1085 Broadway; Phone

Oakland 707.

San Francisco Office, 759 Market street, near Fourth; Phone Kearny 5510.

Berkeley Office, 6133 Center street;

Telephone 1150.

Alameda Office, Schneider's Stationery

Store, corner Park street and Santa

Clara street; Telephone Alameda 509.

Fruitvale Office, Dawson's Drug Store,

Fruitvale avenue and East Fourteenth street; Telephone 1902.

Morris Branch, Eagle's Drug

Store, corner Forty-seventh avenue and East Fourteenth street; Phone Meritt 18.

Fitzburg Branch, Callen's Drug Store,

East Fourteenth and George streets,

Phone Merit 530.

Elmhurst Branch, Phillips & Phillips,

Elmhurst, East Fourteenth street, and

Bay View branch, corner Meritt 18.

Richmond Branch, Eudoy & Freeman,

705 McDonald avenue.

San Jose Agency, 23 North Second street; Telephone Blue 1321.

Manager, Foreign Advertising, Williams & Lawrence, New York, 233-235

Broadway, Fifth avenue and Twenty-fourth street; Phone Meritt 18.

Building, Will T. Cramer, Representative.

To SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscribers failing to receive their paper within a reasonable time after publication will be notified by the name of the TRIBUNE office by telephone, and a special messenger will be dispatched with a copy of THE TRIBUNE at once.

Manuscripts or photographs submitted to the editorial department for consideration must have stamps enclosed to ensure the return of same if not accepted.

MORNING TRIBUNE.

Entered as second class matter February 21, 1908, at the Postoffice at Oakland, Cal., under act of Congress March

3, 1879.

You Can

TELEPHONE

a "Want" to

The Tribune

Call Classified

Oak Department

Oakland 528

Home A2151

All advertisements intended for continuous insertion under heading "700

WANT FOR CLASSIFICATION," 15c a line daily.

All advertisements ordered by telephone for a definite number of insertions will be charged for the time specified, subject to no rebate on discontinuance order before the expiration of the time specified. All advertisers should retain copies of their advertisements, as no mistake will be recognized for insertion "Till Box rentals. No charge made for box rental to patrons answering advertisements requesting answers to certain box numbers.

Special Notice

Patrons of THE TRIBUNE are particularly cautioned against paying in advance for any advertising to be placed in THE TRIBUNE unless advertisers can produce written authorization from the Business Manager.

TRIBUNE PUBLISHING CO.

PHOTOGRAPHY.

FRANK PROST, outdoor and studio expert, 116 Franklin st. Phone Oakland 1140. Home A-3876.

DAY AND CONTRACT WORK.

A. C. CRONIN, general contractor, contracting, steam fitting, 1114 Franklin st.

Phone Meritt 2705.

Any kind of work required or painted, A.

HARRIS, 301 E. 14th, phone 528. Home

A-1000. Phone 528.

G. W. DIAZ, painter, exterior, French landscape painting, first-class work at moderate prices. Phone Oakland 255.

If you want to reach the people of

Alameda county use THE TRIBUNE classified columns.

MARBLE and granite monuments, large and artistic stock, made in the work of a D. D. D. Prop. show room 1717

St. Oakland.

PAINTING, tinting, papering; get our prices and see how much we can save.

Phone Home A-3555. Call 713.

Kempson & Co., 501 Harrison.

HOUSE MOVING.

H. B. HENDERSON—Raising, short-moving, buildings bought and sold, 421 and 2nd streets. Phone Oakland 255.

HOUSE CLEANING.

JAPANESE housecleaning, washing and gardening. Oakland 521. A-2151. 931

Telegraph, Oakland.

ADOPTION.

DEARLY loved boy for adoption; healthy, born; full weight; 321st st.

TAINLESS confinement; children boarded and boarded; 1116 14th st. Maternity

Villa, 1116 14th st. Maternity

PERSONALS.

A merchant would not think a woman very wise if she purchased a yard less silk for a gown than she needed—even if it were very fine silk. Nor is the merchant who counts upon the loss of advertising space than he needs, even if it is very fine advertising space—and costly.

ANY poor girl in need of a friend, a home or advice, is invited to call or write the nation of The Salvation

Army Home, 10444 Heights, Cal.

Phone Meritt 327.

A. A. FREE trip to Calaveras County

the trees and cold mines. Want to go?

Call 221 First and 14th st. between 6

and 9 p. m.

ANY one going to Denver, Colo., will do well to call at 144 20th st. between 6

and 9 p. m.

DISOLUTION OF CO-PARTNERSHIP.

It is hereby mutually agreed that the partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the name of The Brown-King Company is dissolved, G. H.

Brown assuming all obligations of the firm.

The said business will be continued by

G. H. Brown at the same location, First street, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

streets, between Washington and Clay

Will Rent That Room
Will Sell That House
Will Get That Job

in the test scale of circulation and returns and you will find a TRIBUNE want ad worth more than all others combined. 50,000 people read TRIBUNE ads daily

The Tribune

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

Will Sell That House

Will Get That Job

Will Rent That Room

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

(Continued)

WANTED—A girl for general housework; two adults, four children; will be $25. Apply 2115 Forest ave., Berkeley.

WANTED—GIRL for general housework

and plain cooking; 2 in family. Apply

371 Perkins st., near Grand ave.

WANTED—A young girl about 17 years old; light housework. Phone

Piedmont 324.

WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Call at 217 East 14th st., near 5th ave.

WANTED—A first-class cornucopia baker;

none other need apply. Box 3371,

Tribune.

WANTED—Girl for general housework;

wages $20. Apply at 1833 San Antonio ave., Alameda.

AGENTS WANTED.

WE want several first-class real estate salesmen for best tract proposition on this side of the bay; high-class restrictions on terms; liberal inducements to good agents. M. T. Minney Co.,

1259 Broadway.

SALSMEN—SOLICITORS.

A LADY or gentleman of good address and refinement to canvass and attend to outdoor business of a well-established firm. Address 1633

Broadway.

EXPERIENCED first-class cook wishes housework. Apply 843 Union st.,

Berkeley.

EXPERIENCED woman would like light

housework. Apply 843 Union st.,

Berkeley.

EXPERIENCED dressmaker, work by day; $1.50. Box 820, Tribune.

GERMAN girl desires to do housework or make; good wages. 3055 Boulevard ave., Fruitvale.

GOOD Japanese girl wants a position as cook. Phone Oakland 128.

MIDDLE-aged woman wishes position in SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

(Continued)

COLORED girl wishes place in kitchen; $15; steady home; car fare. Phone

Oakland 2990.

COMPEX—Cook wants position in single family and general work. 822

Linden st.

COLORED woman wants work by the day; $2 and car fare. Box 821, Tribune.

DRESSMAKER, experienced, wants sewing in families; $1.50 a day. Phone

Oakland 3368. From 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

BERBERY woman, through housekeeping, wants position; 2 or 3 adults; no washing; good home; moderate wages.

Phone Oakland 1167.

EXPERIENCED woman wishes position housekeeper or in care of rooming house on commission. Phone Oakland 3611.

EXPERIENCED first-class cloak and suit

saleswoman wishes permanent position up-to-date house. Box 1490, Tribune.

